MEDIATORS SEEK BREAK IN ARABS' ANTI-ZION FRONT

SECRET NEW YORK, WASHINGTON TALKS

By NAT BARROWS
The Chicago Daily News-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch. Copyright, 1948.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 21—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan may provide exactly the break in the thin facade of Arab League unity for which Palestine partition conciliators are seeking.

Abdullah is an ambitious man. He has the best army in the Middle East. He makes no secret of the fact that he would like to move in behind the British when they leave Arab Palestine and take over. The British expect to surrender their mandate about May 15.

This correspondent learns that he will be the subject of the shrewdest kind of pressure if the contemplated "freeze" of partition plans takes place.

Amid the current, extremely hush-hush talks under way in New York and Washington, Abdullah is discussed as good material for a leader to offset the Mufti of Jerusalem's fanatical anti-Zionist grip on Islam.

Move Afoot for Delay.

The intrigue now rampant over Palestine partition, specifically over the delicate question of sending an international army to enforce partition, contemplates a delay in Security Council talks about enforcement long enough for explorations into mediation possibilities.

Abdullah, I learn, is the priority target in the search for a Moslem who could push the Mufti aside and, conceivably, take over political control of the planned Arab state in Palestine—with the connivance of the western powers and the blessing of practically everybody except the Mufti's Arab Higher Committee and the Mufti's bloodthirsty young terrorists.

Thus, the dream goes, an international army would not be needed, peace might come to Palestine, and the United States, for one, would not be caught in a squeeze between Jewish political pressure in this country and Arab reprisals through oil stoppages.

Emissary's Visit to U.N.

In this connection, it is worth noting that an emissary of King Abdullah slipped into the United Nations headquarters here late Thursday afternoon and held a quiet talk with Secretary General Trygve Lie. He was there half an hour. Then he slipped away.

Lie is not a party to the undercurrent of cloak-and-dagger intrigue surging around partition enforcement like flood waters. He is as much in the dark about the final American position as Warren Austin, Chief United States delegate to the United Nations.

This Abdullah project is only one of the many moves secretly and desperately up for high-level discussion this weekend. Washington, in the hours before the Se-

WRIT TO PREVENT SHERIFF'S OUSTER TRIAL IS DENIED

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 21—The Missouri Supreme Court today denied a writ of prohibition sought by Sheriff John F. Dougherty to prevent trial of ouster proceedings against him in the court of Circuit Judge William K. Koerner.

The decision today, issued without comment, clears the way for Judge Koerner to proceed with the case. The case was sent to his court from that of Circuit Judge Joseph J. Ward, when the state obtained a change of venue on the alleged ground that Judge Ward was biased in favor of Dougherty.

The ouster case was set for trial in Judge Koerner's court on Feb. 13, but proceedings were halted when attorneys for the Sheriff filed the application for a writ of prohibition in the Supreme Court. They contended the state was not entitled to a change of venue and that Judge Koerner had no authority to proceed with the matter.

The basis of the ouster suit was the hiring by the Sheriff of his wife's niece as a deputy, in violation of the nepotism provisions of the 1945 State Constitution. The niece no longer is employed as a deputy, having quit when her employment received newspaper publicity.

13-YEAR-OLD'S PLEA CHANGED TO GUILTY IN KILLING OF BOY, 7

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (UP)—Attorneys for Howard Lang, 13 years old, today changed his plea from not guilty to guilty in his trial on charges of killing Lonnie Fellick, 7, last Oct. 18.

The plea came unexpectedly after a last-minute conference between Judge Daniel A. Roberts; Lang's mother, Mrs. Alma Lang, 52 years old, his attorneys, Samuel Andalman and Julius Cordell, and Assistant State's Attorney Alex Napoli.

It was preceded by three days of testimony feautred by the story of Gerald Michalek, 9, who told how young Lang dropped a rock on Fellick's head and chest and then covered him with leaves and left him in the woodland. Michalek testified that young Lang made him hold Fellick's legs.

U.S. Army Printing Anthology for Germans of Books Nazis Hated.

BERLIN, Feb. 21 (AP)—The United States Military Government is printing 60,000 copies of an anthology of books burned by the Nazis.

30-YEAR-OLD ROW OVER PALESTINE FINALLY PUTS U.S. ON THE SPOT

A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—Once again the spirits of two great foes, Dr. Chaim Weizmann and Thomas Edward Lawrence — the fabulous "Lawrence of Arabia"—will clash next Tuesday over Lake Success. At that time the Security Council of the United Nations is expected to consider the recommendation of the General Assembly's Palestine Commission that the partition of the Holy Land should be implemented by "international military forces in adequate strength."

Whereupon the White House will pray more fervently than ever for a miracle to rescue it from a deadly quandary—a dilemma in which national defense and national politics seem irreconcilably opposed.

Should the American Government reverse its stand in favor of partition, the Democratic party would lose the electoral votes of New York state, already jeopardized by the triumph of Henry A. Wallace in the Bronx. If the position is maintained, it is argued that American security will be imperiled by enmity of the Arab states, owners of petroleum deposits without which this country might be unable to "oil" another war.

Fears Sending Yanks.

The White House shudders at the very thought of sending American troops to Palestine. It fears that the killing of Yank soldiers or marines would set off a blaze of anti-Semitism in the United States.

It fears also that Russia would insist on military representation, and thus obtain its coveted foothold in the Mediterranean. If minor countries supplied the necessary divisions, Yugoslavia would probably participate. American authorities distrust Belgrade even above Moscow, as the Yugoslavs are considered to be more irresponsible than the Russians.

The same controversy which was waged 30 years ago by Lawrence and Dr. Weizmann has split the Truman Administration asunder.

The cause of national security is spearheaded by James Forrestal, Secretary of Defense, with redoubtable support centering in the State Department's policy planning staff. These advisers hold that American espousal of partition was a major blunder in the "cold war" with the Soviet Union, and that it should be reversed without respect to political consequences.

Pressed for Partition.

On the other hand, American delegates to the United Nations not only voted for partition, but also put the heat on other countries to enforce its adoption by the General Assembly.

In its search for a miracle, the Administration is believed to have indulged in the frantic hope that Britain could be persuaded to revoke the surrender of its mandate on May 15, or at least supply troops to guard the proposed international enclave in Jerusalem, with its monuments of three world religions.

In default of this resource, a desperate eye is being turned on the peculiar voting procedure of the Security Council on matters affecting international peace and security, of which the Palestine question would seem to be an outstanding example.

If the commission's report is held to involve world peace and

TEARS PERSUADE FIREMEN TO DON MASKS, SAVE BOY'S DOG

DES MOINES, Feb. 21 (AP)—Because of a small boy's tears, two firemen went into a flaming home to save his cocker puppy.

Firemen Lee Williams and Phil Pilarski put on gas masks and entered the burning bungalow. They found the 5-month-old dog unconscious under a bed.

They broke out a window and passed Christ to Albert's chum, Robert Jackson, 11. The firemen followed but collapsed when they got outside. Dog and firemen revived.

HINGED LICENSE PLATE WINS NO POLICE APPLAUSE

An ingenious device, apparently intended to help a motorist escape arrest, had the opposite effect yesterday afternoon.

Warren Brown, a 24-year-old carpenter living in the 4200 block of North Broadway, told police that scientific curiosity had been his motive in putting his new 1948 automobile license plate on hinges so he could cause it to fall flat, hiding the numbers, by pulling a wire attached to the steering column. "I just wanted to see if it would work," he explained.

Brown's long record of arrests on traffic charges made the detectives skeptical. The doubts turned to downright suspicion when they found a German-made automatic pistol and six cartridges in the glove compartment. A warrant charging Brown with carrying a concealed weapon was issued today.

A warrant instead of a patent probably will be issued on the license device, police said.

PUPPY REPORTED BEATEN TO DEATH IN 'HELL WEEK'

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21 (UP)—The City Attorney's office today investigated charges that fraternity pledges at the University of California at Los Angeles beat a puppy to death and may have eaten it during "hell week" initiations by Beta Theta Pi.

They began questioning John G. Hallock, 24 years old, after learning that he suddenly resigned his pledge on Tuesday. He said he resigned because he was "revolted" by the killing of a 6-month-old cocker spaniel by pledges, acting on orders of a member.

Hallock, a former Air Force sergeant, said the member told the pledges to have a "freshly killed dog" and that "the dog must not be poisoned, because they were going to have to eat it." He said he did not see the dog killed but saw its body carried into the fraternity house basement.

After hearing Hallock's story, the investigators ordered the chapter president, Jim Higson, and two pledges, Richard Roberts and C. G. Van Duke, to appear Tuesday at the City Attorney's office.

The fraternity issued a statement that said the pledges got the cocker spaniel out of the dog pound at Santa Monica last Tuesday, but said they wanted the dog for a mascot. It said the dog had run away. The fraternity denied the charges of cruelty.

USES PLIERS, SAVES HER SON, 4, FROM EAGLE'S CLUTCHES

CARLSBAD, N.M., Feb. 21 (AP)—A pair of pliers and a bed slat were the weapons used by a Carlsbad pair to save their 4-year-old son from an eagle's clutches. The mother, Mrs. C. J. Reinhart, told it this way yesterday:

The child was playing in the yard while she hung out a wash. Suddenly the big bird appeared in the yard. It hopped toward the child and dug its talons into his head.

For a minute she pulled in vain at the eagle's legs, then ran to the house. Returning with a pair of pliers she jerked the talons free, snatched up her son and rushed him to a doctor. Three talons had pierced the child's skin.

Meanwhile, she had summoned her husband, who found the eagle still in the neighborhood and killed it with a bed slat.

Reinhart said he had been told the eagle had been captured in the Guadalupe mountains west of Carlsbad and had escaped from its captor.

Chicago Janitor Questioned in Killing of Degnan Girl Charged He Was Mistreated.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Two damage suits for $125,000 against 17 policemen, charging false arrest and brutality in connection with the investigation of the Suzanne Degnan murder two years ago, have been settled for $20,000 by Hector Verburgh, 65-year-old janitor, and his wife.

The defendants included Police Commissioner John C. Prendergast, Chief of Detectives Walter Storms and Capt. Raymond Crane, chief of uniformed police.

Verburgh had sued for $100,000, and his wife, Mary, for $25,000. He was paid $15,000 and his wife $5000 by the policemen. Marvin J. Peters, assistant corporation counsel, said that the city was not liable and was not contributing to the amount paid by the policemen. Their attorney said the officers were paying the damages, prorating shares among themselves.

Verburgh had charged he was hanged by his hands and otherwise mistreated by policemen while being questioned about the abduction and dismemberment of the 6-year-old Degnan girl, who had been kidnaped from her home. Her body was dismembered in a basement of an apartment building at which Verburgh was janitor.

The crime later was confessed by William G. Heirens, a University of Chicago student, who is serving a series of life sentences for the Degnan killing and two others.

GETS DIRECTIONS TO 'BEST HOMES' AND RANSACKS ONE

A discriminating burglar who devoted his attention only to homes in the best neighborhoods was arrested yesterday 20 minutes after a caretaker saw him run from the home of Horton Watkins, 1601 South Warson road, Ladue.

The burglar, who identified himself as Robert F. Turnbull of Oklahoma City, Okla., related to Ladue police that he arrived here yesterday from Chicago and asked a man at a bus depot where the "best homes" in the area were located. The man told him without hesitation that the "very best homes" were on Warson road.

Turnbull, thereupon, obtained directions, took two busses and walked until he reached the Watkins residence. He rang the bell but no one answered. Then, he said, he sat on the porch for an hour trying to decide whether to break in.

His mind made up, he broke a window in the front door and began ransacking the house. Near the door, he piled several suitcases crammed with clothing, jewelry and other items, all valued at $3000. A caretaker making his rounds, Fred Bischer, reached the residence at 4:15 p.m., discovered it had been ransacked and then heard a man run out the front door.

He telephoned police and a search of the neighborhood began. At Conway and Clayton roads, police arrested Turnbull, who was trying to hitchhike. He told them he planned to return to the Watkins home later to pick up the bulk of his loot. The Watkins family is out of the city.

POLICEMAN FINDS IT PAYS $1200 TO BE REASONABLE

Motorcycle Patrolman John H. Bauer today turned over a check for $100 to the Police Relief Association.

It was the twelfth such check he has forwarded to the association since 1942. In that year he stopped Erwin P. Stupp, 510 South Price road, Ladue, for speeding on Carondelet boulevard near Morganford road.

The motorist pleaded a pressing engagement in connection with some war work he was doing then as president of Stupp Bros. Bridge & Iron Co. Bauer let Stupp off with a reprimand, and two days later received at his home a $100 check made payable to the Police Relief Association.

The checks have followed at regular intervals, until the total today is $1200. "It pays to be reasonable sometimes," Bauer observed when he turned in the gift today.

CZECH COMMUNIST PREMIER DEMANDS POWER TO NAME NEW GOVERNMENT

By A. I. GOLDBERG

PRAGUE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Communist Premier Klement Gottwald, speaking to thousands at a public rally, demanded a new Czechoslovak Government from top to bottom today in this buffer state between Russia and the West.

His followers, standing in the old town square, cheered him. They cried, "We are prepared," and "Long live the Government of Premier Gottwald without the reactionaries."

Gottwald insisted last night that President Eduard Benes, an independent, let him name a new cabinet without the ministers of three parties that turned in their resignations from the coalition Government yesterday.

President Benes sat tight. He had not accepted the resignations. Technically his broad national front Government still existed.

His office said he had not taken any action toward dissolving the Constituent National Assembly and calling an election of a new Parliament.

Crowd Assembles Early.

For hours before Gottwald spoke, men, women and children came by trolley and on foot to assemble on the square. Busses brought miners and factory workers from nearby towns.

The demonstrators jeered the mention of the three anti-Communist parties whose ministers submitted their resignations from the cabinet over the issue of Communist control of police.

These parties were the Czech National Socialists, with two cabinet members; the Slovak Democrats, with three, and the Catholic People's party, with three.

Their ministers and the two from the Social Democratic party boycotted a cabinet meeting yesterday when Vaclav Nosek, Communist Interior Minister, refused to backtrack from a police order. Seven ministers are Communists.

Shifted Non-Communists.

The order, issued Feb. 13, transferred eight non-Communist police district supervisors. Anti-Communists called this a move to put Communists in complete control of the security police.

The executive committee of the Social Democratic party said last night it would stay in the Government only if the coalition was continued. It insisted, however, its action was not anti-Communist.

Gottwald called the eight ministers who resigned "agents of foreign reaction." He said they must not be allowed to return to the cabinet.

He called for reorganization of local and regional action committees of the national front with new progressive personnel and "without underminers and those who hinder progress."

His speech was broadcast on the Czech radio and boomed out of amplifiers all over the city. Red flags covered a statue of John Huss, Bohemian patriot, opposite him.

Demonstration Orderly.

After speaking, Gottwald went to the presidential palace, it was learned. Other speakers addressed the crowd for another hour. The demonstration generally was orderly. Benes later left for his country home at Lany.

(The United Press reported that Benes, before leaving for Lany, told a delegation of five workers that "we have parliamentary government, and we will continue to have it. I will not accept now or in the future anything which would mean excluding one group or another from participation in the Government.")

Going home, a group of 50 demonstrators gathered outside the office of the Czech National Socialist newspaper Svobodne Slovo on the central public square. They cried, "Let's stop this newspaper." Police guards took posts at the entrances. The crowd made no effort to enter.

The cabinet holds power from a Constituent National Assembly elected in May 1946, when the Communists polled the biggest vote, winning 38 per cent of the seats in the Assembly but failing to gain a majority.

The Assembly was set up to serve until a new Constitution could be put into effect. However, the belief grew last night that the anti-Communist cabinet resignations might bring an emergency election of a new Assembly even before this new Constitution could become effective.

The Communists, although lacking a majority in the Assembly and Cabinet, have up to the present Government crisis been able to put through their long-range political program with the support of the Social Democrats.

P. S. CO. SEEKS TO END USE OF 4-FOR-35c TOKENS

Wants Revenue Boosted to Compensate for Increased Expenses, and Decrease in Riding Since 1947 Fare Hike.

SENDS SCHEDULE TO STATE BOARD

Elimination of the use of tokens, now selling at the rate of four for 35 cents, on streetcars and busses of the St. Louis Public Service Co. was proposed in a new fare schedule filed late yesterday with the Missouri Public Service Commission.

The company, in filing the new tariff, declared the additional revenue, estimated at about $520,000 a year, was necessary because of increased operating expenses and a decline in riding since the company's fare increase last August.

No change is asked in the present cash fare of 10 cents, nor in the prices of passes. The latter were increased last year as follows: regular weekly pass from $1.25 to $1.50; weekly express bus pass from $1.50 to $1.75; weekly shopper and theater pass from 75 cents to $1, and the Sunday and holiday pass from 25 cents to 30 cents.

Up to Commission.

Unless suspended by the Commission for investigation, the new schedule will become effective automatically after 30 days, on March 22.

Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann today called for a conference of city officials concerned with utility matters to study the new schedule and to advise him what position the city should take in the matter. It has been customary for the city to oppose most rate and fare increases sought by utilities here.

City Counselor George L. Stemmler, Associate City Counselor Forrest G. Ferris Jr., Director of Public Utilities Harry C. Brockhoff and Milton M. Kinsey, president of the Board of Public Service, will take part in the conference.

Hearing Likely.

Chairman Morris E. Osburn of the Commission said a hearing would be ordered before the effective date to determine if the schedule should be suspended for investigation.

The user of tokens now rides for 8¾ cents. If he has to pay a straight cash fare, through elimination of tokens, the increase would be 14.3 per cent. He would have to use a weekly pass more than 15 times a week to average less than 10 cents a ride.

Immediate filing of the new schedule was approved yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the board of directors of the Public Service Co. here at which the regular 25-cent quarterly dividend was cut to 12½ cents, the first reduction since the $1-a-year rate was established in 1943. President John L. Wilson told the board net income had dropped to $553,307 during 1947 from $1,509,390 in 1946. He estimated 1947 earnings at a 1 per cent return on investment. The two-week strike of operators last June accounted for about $110,000 of the decrease, he said.

The staff of the Public Service Commission currently is making an audit of the property, revenues and operating expense of the transit company preliminary to a determination by the Commission of the value of the company's property for rate making and the reasonableness of the company's fares.

The audit, requested by the City of St. Louis, was ordered when the Commission approved the increase sought by the company in the prices of its passes. The audit will not be completed for several months.

Decline in Riding.

Wilson said the increase in the price of passes had been expected to increase revenues about 5 per cent. The decline in riding since pass prices were boosted has more than offset the anticipated increase in total sales, he said, while costs have increased at a rate of about $900,000 annually.

"For us to postpone any application for fare adjustments for another six months (pending completion of the audit) might well jeopardize the standard of transit service presently operated," he said.

"The vast majority of transit riders will not be affected by this change, and the effect on those who now use tokens will not be great. In fact, the over-all effect of the change will be relatively small, but, because of the seriously narrowing margin between what we are taking in and our increased cost of operations, it is vitally important to us at this time."

Wilson said a compilation of basic transit fares in 10 other large cities of the east and middle west showed a cash fare of 10 cents or more in all of them with a basic pass price of $1.50 in the only two cities having passes. Tokens were sold in only two cities, both having cash fares higher than those in St. Louis, he said.

Buying New Busses.

The Public Service Co. also filed an application with the commission yesterday for authority to execute a note to four St. Louis banks for $1,327,632. This is to

BELL CO. TO OFFER MORE TESTIMONY IN RATE RISE PLEA

By RICHARD G. BAUMHOFF
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 21—Additional witnesses on behalf of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in its application for $3,250,000 in annual Missouri telephone rate increases will be heard by the Missouri Public Service Commission next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. As the hearing adjourned temporarily yesterday, a determined effort was being made by St. Louis and Kansas City to have rates fixed on the local exchange rather than the statewide basis.

After next week, a new adjournment for possibly five or six weeks is anticipated to give the commission's technical staff time to complete its recommendations for sizable cuts in operating expense allowance and rate base of the company. Five original company witnesses were heard in a three-day session last December, and five days this week were spent by counsel for the commission and protesting communities in cross-examining them.

Decision Unlikely Before April.

Prospects are that the earliest time possible for a decision by the commission will be the latter part of April or May. The company filed its application last Sept. 30. The increases sought amount to about 6½ per cent over estimated Missouri revenue for last year.

It was asserted yesterday by H. R. Towles of St. Louis, division manager and a rate expert for the company, that the proposed $3,250,000 increases would not yield a fair return on the company's investment. He had calculated the requested new rate schedule last summer, and his point was that later developments in operating expenses had upset the calculations. Another witness had said previously he knew of no plan by the company now to seek additional increases.

The exchange theory of rate-making, urged by St. Louis, Kansas City and some smaller cities of the state, would be more favorable to the larger communities than the statewide method. The essence of Towles's testimony on this question was that smaller exchanges could not charge rates

STRIKING AIRLINES PILOTS INTRODUCE PICKETING IN AIR

They Fly Over Florida Cities Pulling Streamers—Non-Union Men Hired.

Two aircraft flown by members of the Airline Pilots' Association flew over Miami, Miami Beach and Hialeah race track pulling long streamers bearing the words: "National Airlines pilots on strike." The strike began Feb. 3.

National recently discharged the striking pilots and hired non-union pilots to operate its planes. National resumed its New York to Miami non-stop flights today and the New York, Miami, Havana flights with non-union flight personnel aboard.

Unpredicted Snow Slows Traffic; Clouds Iced, Suggests Wahlgren

"Someone must have been seeding those clouds with dry ice," he suggested. He explained the clouds forecast for today contained more precipitation than his office had estimated, as a result of which about one inch of snow covered the ground this morning and made streets slippery for motorists.

Light snow was reported in eastern Nebraska southeastward into Missouri and Kansas as well as in parts of Iowa and Illinois.

Missouri highways were reported from "near normal" to dangerously slick by the state highway department. The fall ranged from a trace at some points to seven inches in northwestern Missouri sections.

The snow will end tonight, Wahlgren said, but the clouds will continue generally tomorrow. He predicted a low of about 22 tomorrow morning and a high in the afternoon near 40.

ARABS WILLING TO CONSIDER HOLY LAND MEDIATION; JEWS AGAINST IT

Reports Persist That Plan for Conciliation on Palestine Partition Issue Is Being Drafted for Security Council.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—Indications mounted today that the Arabs would welcome conciliatory moves on the Palestine problem now before the United Nations. The Jews were expected to reject any such plans.

Reports persisted that some sort of mediation plan was being drafted for presentation in the Security Council, which will open debate on the Holy Land partition Tuesday. The Arabs said they were ready to explore the possibilities. A Jewish Agency for Palestine spokesman said any such steps were doomed from the start and would only help the Arabs block the U.N. General Assembly's partition decision.

Some evidence of a softening in the Arab attitude came when it was learned that Syria would not oppose giving the Jewish agency a non-voting seat on the council for the debate. The Arabs vigorously opposed Jewish Agency representation in previous Palestine debates before the General Assembly.

Delegates generally planned to await the American position before taking a stand on recommendations of the U.N. Palestine partition commission for an international military force in the Holy Land.

Syrian Delegate Faris El Khouri said yesterday Jamal El Hussaini, vice chairman of the Arab Higher Committee, has denied making a statement to the effect that suicide squads are preparing to attack the Palestine commission when it arrives in the Holy Land. The denial said "Zionist propagandists are creating such false rumors to arouse public opinion in favor of their demands for an international force to implement partition."

The Security Council hopes to clear its decks for the Palestine debate by disposing of the Indonesian question at today's meeting. Delegates were expected to override Russian opposition and send a three-nation good offices committee back to the Indies to help in a final political settlement between the Dutch and the Indonesian Republic.

Russia and the Ukraine have charged that the colonial powers forced the Indonesian Republic to accept a one-sided truce agreement in order to further their imperialistic aims.

MEDIATORS SEEK BREAK IN ARABS' ANTI-ZION FRONT

curity Council meets Tuesday, is going to see some extremely interesting meetings.

The American statement of position on sending an international army to Palestine is ready, subject to last-minute emergency changes if some startling development occurs before Tuesday. Austin, at present entirely uninformed, will get his instructions Monday.

Yemen May Provide Break.

Meanwhile, plans for conciliation feelers toward anti-Mufti Arabs are well under way. Along with the prospect of building Abdullah into a pro-partition leader, the handful of diplomats behind this move are now studying Yemen.

The coup d'etat in the mountainous feudal kingdom of Yemen, with the reported killing of the Imam Yahia, three of his 16 sons and a chief adviser, may provide yet another break in the facade of Arab League unity.

This plot against the Imam plainly means an abrupt shift in Government policy, doubtless away from the previous role of kowtowing to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, in the opinion of Middle East experts here.

The balance of Arab League power then would shift, weakening Ibn Saud in his feud with King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan and, possibly, strengthening Abdullah's long-standing ambitions to control, in one way or another, the Arab state in the projected partition of the Holy Land.

The new Imam of Yemen is likely to shy away from any deals with London in which Ibn Saud also is involved until he has fully consolidated his new position and reviewed the status of Yemen regarding the Palestine issue.

(An Associated Press dispatch from Aden said the British destroyer Comet had arrived at the Yemen Red Sea port of Hodeida.)

Some Arabs Displeased.

It is known that some Arab leaders have been irked because so much energy in the Arab nationalist movement has been channeled into meeting the Palestine question.

Yemen is in that category. By itself, tiny Yemen, at the southern end of the Red Sea, could not provide the soft spot which might weaken the surface unity of the Arab League toward Holy Land partition. But, lined up with Trans-Jordan and the other Hashamite-family country, Iraq, it might conceivably carry enough weight to offset the Mufti of Jerusalem's fanatical drive against Zionism and against partition.

However, there exists one slight catch to all such speculation. If Ibn Saud should decide he still wants Yemen saying "yes" at his command and moved in on the Yemenites with a heavy hand, he would be equipped to give the Yemenites a spanking.

5 Killed in Italian Crash.

FLORENCE, Italy, Feb. 21 (UP)—Five persons were killed yesterday when a passenger plane on the Florence-Rome civil airline crashed into a mountain near Florence in bad weather. The plane carried five passengers and a crew of four. Those killed were four crew members and an Italian passenger.

St. Louisans Back From Palestine Say That Jews May Need Guns and Planes

Jewish forces in Palestine are well-enough equipped and trained to fight off Arab attacks but lack the artillery, airplanes and motorized equipment they will need if the tempo of Arab fighting increases, three St. Louisans who just returned from a tour of Palestine said here today.

I. E. Goldstein, chairman of the 1947 Jewish Fund Campaign and president of the United Lumber Co., charged that arms taken from Haganah soldiers are sold by British troops to the Arabs, and have been recovered later from Arabs killed in skirmishes with the Jews.

Melvin Dubinsky, real estate operator, said the touring group learned that former German officers, white Russians and Poles have been training the Arabs, who are well-equipped.

Outside Fighters for Arabs.

Samuel C. Klein, dress manufacturer, said: "We are satisfied that Palestinian Arabs are not making war. Seventy-five per cent of the Arab fighters come from outside Palestine. They are killing Palestinian Arabs who are not sympathetic with the war."

Goldstein emphasized that Hagana, a Hebrew word for defense, is "strictly a defense organization." The Jewish forces have only small arms and light machine guns. The weapons were described by Klein as being "of the crudest types and poorest quality."

From statements made by leaders of Haganah, Goldstein said, "we feel that men and women in Haganah are able to take care of the present Arab armies. But if great numbers of Arabs come in, there is a question whether Haganah can handle the situation."

Klein paid tribute to the "great personal courage" of the Palestinian Jews. He said they were "determined to defend the land and ask only for arms, not men." He added: "They will fight to the last ditch."

Need for Heavy Equipment.

Dubinsky pointed out that the Jewish forces "have no heavy equipment, tanks or planes. They need mortars, artillery and motorized equipment." He told of a recent attack by 600 Arabs on a northern Jewish outpost. The attacking forces used 3-inch mortars and small arms. The Jews defended the outpost with rifles and light machine guns.

Many Arabs are being used by the British for constabulary work, Klein asserted. In Haifa, in the Mount Carmel district, he related, he saw a convoy of 20 to 30 vehicles containing Arab legionnaires.

"I was extremely uncomfortable," he admitted, "because each Arab had a finger on his rifle. They were wearing uniforms — not draped in those tablecloths. I was advised to keep walking straight ahead and look ahead. All the Arabs were young and well-equipped."

He pointed out that many Palestinian Jews served in the Royal Air Force in the recent war but there are no airplanes in the Hagana armament. The British embargo on shipment of arms to Palestine is "strict," he asserted.

Regarding the terrorist groups, Irgun and the Stern gang, Goldstein said: "We saw no signs of Irgun. It is now inactive and taking no direct part in the fighting." Klein added that the Stern gang was a "comparatively small group of outright terrorists, brigands and thieves." Dubinsky remarked that at their peak strength, Irgun and the Stern groups had only 700 members.

Goldstein told of the recent arrest of four Jewish youths by the British. The prisoners were released in an Arab district and were promptly shot to death. "It was considered a clear case of murder," he said. "The British sergeant major who released them was arrested."

Jews up to 45 are assigned to guard duty after their regular working hours, he continued. "People make an effort to lead normal lives," he said, "but you hear constant gunfire and explosions."

Shots Hit Armored Bus.

When the St. Louis visitors rode in an armored bus to the Hadassah Hospital on the outskirts of Jerusalem, Dubinsky related, "a few shots bounced off the bus."

The hospital has been converted into a hotel-hospital, he said, because staff members cannot leave. Snipers fire on them and an armed guard of 150 men is kept at the hospital to protect patients. Windows have been bricked up to protect surgeons in the operating rooms.

Hagana would be unnecessary if the United Nations furnished a police force for Palestine, Goldstein asserted. "I feel," he said, "that if the British withdraw May 15, as they say they will, there will not be open warfare. The British are only aggravating the present condition."

Klein explained Hagana members believe that despite the potential danger of greater attacks from the Arabs after the British withdraw, the Jewish forces will be better off because they would no longer be subject to harassing search and seizure by the British.

Reports of Communism.

As for reports of Communism in Palestine, all members of the group said that they found no evidence of any sympathy toward Communism and that Jewish leaders emphasized that they wanted a democratic country, modeled on the United States and open to all races.

Purpose of the tour of Palestine and of displaced persons' camps in Germany, Italy and France was to obtain first-hand information for the coming campaign to raise $3,600,000 in St. Louis for the Jewish Welfare Fund. All but $600,000 would be used for overseas relief purposes.

Other members of the touring group, who paid their own expenses, were Mrs. Babette Lipsitz, who will leave Palestine tomorrow; Alvin A. Wolff, attorney, who is in New York, and Bernard K. Schram, who is returning today from Palestine by airplane.

GRAIN PRICES PULL OUT OF DECLINE, STOCKS HIGHER

Cotton and Other Commodities Move Irregularly in the Futures Markets.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Grains ended on a firm price footing today after slipping at the start. Cotton and other commodities traded in the futures markets moved irregularly.

Stock prices edged forward but trading slowed down to 230,000 shares, slimmest since last May. Among the few lively issues was Atlantic Gulf & West Indies preferred which advanced $8 a share to $76 on meager turnover.

Wheat futures at Chicago added 2½ to 5 cents a bushel, corn moved up 1¼ to 2½, and oats ⅝ to 1½c.

No retail price changes of importance came to light as retailers tried to appraise the effect of the crack in primary markets.

The big break in the commodity markets has reduced retail food prices an average of 3½ per cent from January highs. Other cost-of-living items either clung to postwar peaks or headed upward.

This was the picture presented by the Government's Bureau of Labor Statistics in its first official report on the effect of the market slump on retail prices.

These foods showed percentage declines over the period studied:

Flour, 8; round steak, 8; hamburger, 1; pork chops, 10; bacon, 15; roasting chickens, 2; butter, 4; eggs, 11; apples, 4; oranges, 1; lard, 18; sugar, 3; lettuce, 24.

No change was noted for bread and navy beans.

Chicago showed the biggest price drop, 5 per cent. Los Angeles showed no decline at all, because of a sharp rise in milk prices. The other 10 cities had the following percentage declines:

Atlanta, 4; Boston, 3; Cleveland, 3; Denver, 3; Detroit, 3; Houston, 4; Kansas City, 4; New York, 3; Philadelphia, 4; Washington, 4.

ST. CLAIR GRAND JURY VOTES 52 TRUE BILLS, 2 ON MURDER

A total of 52 true bills, two of them charging murder, were voted by the December term St. Clair county grand jury and included in its final report, returned yesterday to Circuit Judge Edward F. Bareis at Belleville. There were 11 no true bills.

Joseph Washington, Negro, was charged with murder in the shooting last Dec. 3 of Miss Bessie Griggs, Negro. Walter Taylor, Negro, was charged with murder in the shooting last Dec. 11 of James Willis, Negro. Washington and Taylor live in East St. Louis.

In another indictment, Harry Schlatweiler, former East St. Louis parking meter inspector, was charged with operating a confidence game. The charge was based on an allegedly worthless check cashed for Schlatweiler by Raymond Hill, Negro, an East St. Louis policeman.

JOBLESS VETERAN WHO MADE HOME OF GARAGE FINED $50

'My Wife Was Expecting Baby and I Had to Find Place to Live,' He Says, Weeping.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—A jobless veteran who spent months converting a two-car garage into a home wept in License Court yesterday when he was fined $50 and costs for violating the city zoning ordinance.

"For months I looked for a place to live," Jacob Erlanbach, 30 years old, formerly of the Coast Guard and father of a six-month-old daughter, said.

"It was useless. My wife was expecting the baby and I had to find a place to live. Then we saw this garage. I worked for months installing partitions and plumbing. Then the city inspectors came after it was finished in August and said we'd have to move.

"I lost my job not long ago as a bus driver, but I do have the money to pay the fine."

In fining Erlanbach, Judge George B. Weiss said, "If I were to discharge you, thousands of others would seek the same sort of kindness from this court."

BAWLING OUT FOUND TO CAUSE CHEMICAL REACTION IN SANE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (UP)—A good bawling out causes a chemical reaction in normal persons, but doctors have found this reaction lacking in some insane patients.

Dr. Hudson Hoagland of the Worcester (Mass.) Foundation for Experimental Biology, reported the contrasting results of "stress experiments" to a naval medical research meeting here.

Hoagland thinks biologists may have found a clue to some chemical differences between the sane and the insane. He emphasized, however, that there is no positive proof that this reported difference is tied up with mental illness or health.

"We know that people who crack up mentally cannot take the stresses of everyday living," he said. "We were looking for a chemical difference and we found this."

A group of normal individuals were subjected to a variety of stresses, including exposure to extreme heat and cold, target pursuit tests such as are used in gunnery practice, psychological interviews and bawling outs. Examination of their blood and urine showed that they reacted by secreting certain chemicals, particularly potassium.

The same stresses were applied to 68 co-operative insane patients, and examination failed to show the presence of the same chemicals.

URGES PLANS NOW FOR 'LEGISLATION BY TELEVISION'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (UP)—Senator Alexander Wiley (Rep.), Wisconsin, suggests that Congress should make plans now to "legislate by television" in the event there is a national emergency brought on by atomic bomb attack.

He envisioned the possibility of a bombed-out capital, in which case members of the House and Senate would gather in various sections of the country and cast their votes by television on important legislative matters.

Wiley made his proposal in a speech read for him last night on an N.B.C. broadcast by Representative Lawrence H. Smith (Rep.), Wisconsin. Wiley became ill and was unable to appear for his address.

His speech reasserted that decentralization of every aspect of American life is the only present answer to national security.

The choice, Wiley said, is "decentralization or doomsday," "order or chaos," "vigilant preparedness or smug inertia."

3-YEAR TERM IN ROBBERIES OF THREE TAXICAB DRIVERS

Charles E. McAlister, 2025A Mullanphy street, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary yesterday by Circuit Judge William S. Connor when he pleaded guilty of robbing three taxicab drivers last fall.

M'ARTHUR IS 'TOO BUSY' TO RETURN NOW; ROW ENDS

Some Members of House Group Want Him to Testify on Problems of the Far East.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee had a touchy political decision lifted out of its hands today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The General's name got tangled up in the committee's aid-to-China discussions yesterday when some members suggested inviting him to Washington to testify on Far Eastern problems.

That started a dispute. Representatives opposing the move said it could be used as an attempt to boom MacArthur for the Republican presidential nomination.

Others insisted that MacArthur should be asked home from Japan to give advice on how to help China overcome its native Communist armies.

Too Busy, Says General.

The General settled the problem himself. He said he is too busy to make the trip.

"While I deeply appreciate the confidence reflected in the suggestion I return to the United States to state my views to the House Foreign Affairs Committee on the China relief plan," he said in a Tokyo statement, "I hope the committee will not further the idea.

"The present Japanese political situation involving an imminent change of government and the heavy pressure of my duties render it impracticable for me to leave my post here at the present time."

There still remains the possibility, of course, that MacArthur could be called or ordered home. If the committee should formally decide it wants to hear MacArthur, the general could be called or ordered home by President Truman or top Army officials.

Continuing Effort.

Representative Smith (Rep.), Wisconsin, said today he is going ahead with efforts to bring MacArthur to Washington. Smith moved yesterday that MacArthur be invited to fly home to testify, but nothing happened because too few committee members were on hand to decide. Smith said he would make his motion again, probably next week.

A MacArthur man, meanwhile, announced in Chicago that he is going to establish a national headquarters in Washington for backers of the General. The Chicagoan is Warren Wright, banker and former Illinois state treasurer.

"The objective of me and my friends," he said, "is to create a popular demand for Gen. MacArthur that will compel the Republican national convention to nominate him this summer."

ALABAMA REJECTS SOVIET COMPLAINT ON 'WIFE-BEATING'

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 21 (UP) — Alabama set Russia straight today on wife-beating in that state. The husbands said, "we wouldn't dare." The wives said, "just let 'em try it." The law said, "it isn't legal."

Russian Delegate A. P. Borisov told the Social Committee of the United Nations Economic and Social Council yesterday that a law in Alabama permits a husband to beat an erring wife with a stick not more than two inches thick. He asked: "If this happens in the United States, what goes on in the colonies?"

Borisov was rebuked by the United States and accused of bringing up irrelevant questions. He made his remarks during debate on a motion to ask the U.N. Trusteeship Council to enlarge an investigation of human rights. The proposal was rejected.

In Alabama, Attorney General Albert Carmichael branded Borisov's statement as "entirely erraneous and false." He said it is illegal for an Alabaman to "inflict personal chastisement on his wife" and furthermore the offense is ground for divorce.

KILLS WIFE WITH HAMMER, ICE PICK, SUMMONS POLICE

CONCORD, Mass., Feb. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Helen H. Cox, 62 years old, was killed with a hammer and ice pick today as she sat playing a piano, police announced as they arrested her Harvard-graduate husband.

They quoted her husband, Marshall W. Cox, 58, candy dealer and country club manager as saying he killed his wife because of financial troubles—"everything was going wrong; the roof had fallen in." According to police, Cox telephoned headquarters, saying "You'd better come out here right away; I've killed my wife."

President Tells Them 'Equality Means More Than Mere Political Emancipation.'

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 21 (AP)—President Truman told the people of Puerto Rico today that the appointment of an island-born Governor was just a step toward an "increasing measure of self-government."

He greeted Gov. Jesus T. Pinero, his own appointee, and others gathered at San Juan's island Grande Airport in this fashion:

"Freedom is a word which is found in every language. Equality means more than mere political emancipation.

"I have said to the Congress several times—and I repeat it here—that the Puerto Rican people should have the right to determine for themselves Puerto Rico's political relationship to the United States."

'Democratic Way.'

He described the relationship between the United States and Puerto Rico as an example of "the democratic way of co-operation between friendly people."

"It represents," he said, "what the American people are trying to encourage in the world at large. . . .

"I have been keenly interested in Puerto Rico for many years. I know of the many strides you have made and something about the problems you face and have overcome. In these efforts, the people of the continental United States and of Puerto Rico have been allied as partners. The Federal Government has supplied financial help. But your own efforts, especially during the past few years, have enlarged the economic opportunities of your people, have attracted new industries, and have improved your educational and health facilities.

"This is a relationship which is mutually beneficial. . . . It is a relationship in which we take pride because the services we perform for each other are directed toward raising the standards of living of all our people. . . .

"Within this framework, the peoples of Puerto Rico and the mainland have a unique demonstration for the world. Differing languages and differing cultural backgrounds are not an obstacle to democratic unity."

Full Schedule.

A full schedule was arranged for Truman, from the moment of his arrival at 9:22 a.m. in his private plane, the Sacred Cow, from Key West, Fla.

Tonight the presidential yacht Williamsburg is due to carry him to St. Thomas, in the Virgin Islands, for an official visit tomorrow with Gov. William H. Hastie, former Washington Negro law school dean, another of his appointees, and other high-ranking officials. He will visit St. Croix Monday.

It was Truman's sixth visit away from the United States mainland since taking office in April 1945. He attended a Big Three conference at Potsdam that year and visited Bermuda in 1946. He went to Mexico City, Ottawa and Rio de Janeiro last year.

The presidential plane left the Boca Chica airport, eight miles north of Key West at 4:08 a.m. Truman was accompanied by Fleet Adm. William D. Leahy, his chief of staff, a one-time Governor of Puerto Rico, and other White House aids.

Position on Theodore Roosevelt.

The President declined yesterday at Key West to renege on his indorsement of Republican President Theodore Roosevelt as a "liberal" at a Democratic dinner Thursday night. He did not reply directly when asked if he had made a "slip of the tongue."

"Do I have to answer that?" he asked, grinning. Then he added: "Theodore Roosevelt belongs in the same class with Franklin. We admit all liberals. He was a liberal, too." He said he was speaking of "all the Roosevelts."

He had concluded Thursday night's speech, dedicating the Democratic party to a course of progressive liberalism by saying: "If any one chooses to call this politics, then it is the politics of Jefferson and Jackson, Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt—and it is good enough for me."

The printed advance texts of the speech had said simply, "Roosevelt."

HITOSHI ASHIDA

ASHIDA ELECTED JAP PREMIER; IS MODERATE

Fifth Prime Minister Since War Plans to Form Coalition Cabinet.

Ashida polled 216 votes to 180 for former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, head of the ultra-conservative Liberal party, in the House of Representatives. A majority of 211 was required for election.

Tetsu Katayama received eight votes although he said under no circumstance would he accept the post from which he resigned a few days ago.

In the upper House of Concillors, Yoshida received 104 votes and Ashida 102, with 12 abstaining. The majority needed there is 110.

The constitution provides that should the two houses fail to agree the vote of the lower house will elect the prime minister. However, 10 days must elapse before he can take office.

The election of Ashida, 59-year-old former newspaper man, was made possible by a last-minute switch of the Social Democratic party. The Social Democrats previously had worked toward building another cabinet around the outgoing Premier.

Ashida is Japan's fifth Premier since the war. He announced he would attempt to form a middle-of-the-road coalition cabinet. His dependence on the Social Democrats was expected to result in a new cabinet which would be little different from the outgoing coalition.

Ashida is a former classmate of Katayama at the Imperial University law school. Before the war he was president of the English language Japan Times and Mail, published in Tokyo. He speaks English and French.

GETS 6 MONTHS FOR ASSAULT

Joseph L. French, a truck driver, was sentenced to six months in the workhouse yesterday by Circuit Judge Michael J. Scott for assault with intent to rob Gerald G. Gallagher of South Bend, Ind. French pleaded guilty after the charge had been reduced from robbery.

Gallagher told police he met French here Oct. 9 and accompanied him to his home at 1446 (rear) Cass avenue. In the basement, Gallagher reported, French hit him with a gas pipe and took $90 from him.

U.S. SENDING CHINA SURPLUS ARMS AT FRACTION OF COST

80 Fighters, 150 Transports for Chiang—State Department Tells House Group of Aid.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (UP)—The State Department has informed Congress that new United States military aid is on its way to the anti-Communist forces in China, it was learned today.

The department, in a memorandum to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, revealed that several contracts have been approved to sell Chiang Kai-shek's Government surplus United States war goods at sharply reduced prices. The goods include planes and ammunition.

State Department officials said materiel for the Chinese Air Force, under a newly-disclosed contract signed last Nov. 6, was being loaded aboard Chinese ships at Saipan last week. About 150 transport planes sold to China under a Dec. 26, 1947, contract are being put in shape to be flown to China.

Loading Ammunition.

Secretary of State Marshall told the House Foreign Affairs Committee yesterday that the Chinese started loading ammunition aboard LST craft in the Marianas Feb. 14.

Disclosure of the contracts appeared to be the State Department's answer to congressional critics who have denounced the new $570,000,000 Chinese-aid program as "inadequate" because it does not provide for military supplies.

Diplomatic sources said a Chinese mission also received assurances recently that the United State Army will scour the Pacific for additional planes which might be made available to the Nationalist Government. China will get the war materials at a small fraction of their original cost.

12½ Pct. of Original Cost.

One contract, the House committee was informed, turns over to China goods originally valued at several million dollars. The Chinese will pay only 12½ per cent of that.

Another contract signed last month provides for the transfer of ammunition now located in the Marianas in the Pacific. For this, China will pay but one cent on the dollar.

It was learned that 80 fighter planes have been earmarked for the Far East under the surplus property program.

EX-KING CAROL STRIPPED OF ROMANIAN PROPERTIES

His estates had been confiscated previously but it was reported he still held large industrial shares. The same order confiscated the property of six former Romanian diplomats abroad.

(Carol, long in exile, said in Lisbon Jan. 11 he believed the decision of his son, King Mihai, to abdicate, "must have been forced" on him. Romania was proclaimed a "people's republic" by its Communist-dominated government after the abdication.)

JOINT CONGRESS GROUP TO CALL STEEL LEADERS ON PRICE BOOST

Taft Says Open Hearing Thursday Will Determine Whether Full Inquiry Will Be Made on $5 a Ton Rise.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (UP)—The joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report voted unanimously today to summon "two or three" steel industry leaders to explain the increase in steel prices. The increase of $5 a ton on semi-finished steel is expected to cost users about $68,000,000 a year.

Chairman Taft (Rep.), Ohio, said the steel men would be called to appear at an open hearing next Thursday. The committee will decide from their testimony whether to start a full-dress investigation, he said.

At the same time, two Republican Senators—Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota and Arthur V. Watkins of Utah—called for a Justice Department investigation of the steel price increase.

"I think it's a little suspicious when all the companies go up about the same amount at the same time," Ball said.

Taft said he had not decided who would be called, but the witnesses probably would be one representative of United States Steel, one from so-called "Little Steel" and one independent operator.

He said Vice Chairman Wolcott (Rep.), Michigan, who is chairman of the House Banking Committee, made the motion to "invite" the steel companies to explain the increase.

Two Studies Ordered.

The Economic Report Committee also voted to set up two subcommittees to study other phases of the economic situation. One will study the effect of the European recovery program on the national economy and the other taxes and proposed inflation controls.

Government economists and a leading banker saw new inflationary dangers in the steel price increase. Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said it would have "widespread repercussions on the nation's economy." Such action by a basic industry, he said, would make it difficult for other industries to hold the line on prices.

"It seems to me that it discourages the whole idea of keeping prices down and fighting inflation," Nourse said. "I think, too, that it will prompt union leaders to stand firm in their demands for another round of wage increases."

"Irresponsible," McGrath Says.

The increase also was attacked by Chairman J. Howard McGrath of the Democratic National Committee. He said the increase showed that Congress must enact President Truman's program for price and ration controls.

He said the increase would add to the "dangerously high cost of living." It was another move, he said, in the "get yours while the getting is good" philosophy. He said the action was "irresponsible" and such tactics must be halted "or we shall have another crash."

Joseph M. Dodge, president of the American Bankers Association, said the steel price increase indicates that "the dangers of inflation are not over." He said the increase sounds "inflationary to me."

Steel spokesmen explained the increase as an effort to bring prices in line with costs in the industry. Most steel sources denied that the increases were intended to compensate for anticipated wage boosts to be asked for by the CIO United Steel Workers.

In Pittsburgh, Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel Corp., said the price changes relate primarily to semi-finished steel and were not a general increase.

THREE CHARGES AGAINST DRIVER ARE NOL-PROSSED

Two charges of embezzlement and a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses against George R. Eader, 1327 McCutcheon road, Richmond Heights, were nol-prossed yesterday by Assistant Circuit Attorney Virginia Z. McGinty. Miss McGinty said she nol-prossed the case because his employer asked that Eader be given a chance to rehabilitate himself.

The defendant was employed as a truck driver for the Jewel Cleaners, 2100 Bellevue avenue, Maplewood, when he was charged with taking two suits of men's clothes valued at $90. He also was charged with cashing a bogus check for $15. Irving Sapp, coproprietor of the cleaning establishment, told Miss McGinty, that Eader had made restitution.

Stabbed to Death After Dispute.

Willie Fuller, 43-year-old Negro, was stabbed to death early today after a dispute in a tavern in the 1300 block of Biddle street. Harvey Brown, Negro, 916 LaBeaume street, said he stabbed Fuller with a pocket knife after the latter cut Mrs. Mary Daniels, Negro, of the Franklin avenue address, police said. She was treated at Homer G. Phillips Hospital for minor cuts about the head.

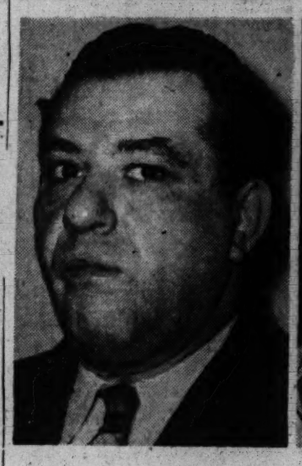
Druggist Whose Plea Kept Clerk From Workhouse Is Robbed by Him



HERMAN SPIVAK

CHARLES H. SMITH

Herman Spivak, a druggist, who made an impassioned plea a month ago for his clerk, Charles H. Smith, saving him from a year's Workhouse sentence, has decided that his faith in Smith was misplaced. On Spivak's complaint, a warrant was issued yesterday charging Smith with grand larceny in the theft of whisky valued at $1492 from the Spivak drug store, 631 East Big Bend boulevard, Webster Groves.

Smith had pleaded guilty of stealing $260 from his former employer, Nat D. Clark, owner of a drug store at 3737 Gravois boulevard, and was sentenced to a year in the Workhouse by Circuit Judge James F. Nangle Jan. 23. But Spivak, in a 20-minute plea to the court, related that he had hired Smith knowing that he was charged with stealing and was willing to repay the $260 stolen from Clark.

Spivak declared he had full faith in Smith's integrity, that he was absolutely reliable and that he had full charge of the store when Spivak was away. On the strength of Spivak's plea, Smith was paroled immediately.

Only a short time elapsed before Spivak became suspicious of the clerk he had saved. Merchandise was missed from the store. A Webster Groves policeman told Spivak he had noticed tire tracks and footprints from the drugstore to a warehouse a short distance away. Then last week another clerk told Spivak that Smith had boasted he had purchased a padlock to keep his whisky safe. Also, Smith told the other clerk he wished he had gone to jail before because he had enough whisky to sell to other inmates and to use in bribing guards.

Then Spivak learned that Smith had been renting automobiles for four months at $40 a week. Another development that added to the druggist's suspicion was the discovery that his clerk had moved from 493 Eichelberger street to 8314 Flora avenue in Vinita Park.

Finally, Spivak discovered that 32 cases of whisky were missing from the store. He questioned Smith, and the clerk admitted that he had sold some of the whisky and pocketed the money. Webster Groves police were called in, and they quoted Smith as admitting he stole about $300 worth of whisky in the last several months, including 10 cases from the warehouse.

Smith is in St. Louis county jail at Clayton, unable to furnish $2500 bond. The grand larceny warrant was issued by Magistrate Frank Tirrell, before whom a preliminary hearing will be held Tuesday in Maplewood.

Police records show that in 1943 Smith was sentenced to 18 months in prison on a grand larceny charge growing out of theft of liquor and cigarettes from another drug store, at 6901 Gravois, where he was employed. He won a parole for that offense also.

Spivak said: "I'm still checking my $100,000 inventory. I've checked back for the last two months, and I think there may be more missing. This time I'm through with Smith. I guess a leopard never changes his spots. It looks like I was taken for one big ride."

UNIVERSITY CITY SAILOR SAVES MEN IN MEDITERRANEAN

Coxswain Dean Loy Tendler, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Tendler, 7057 Julian avenue, University City, saved several sailors from the U.S.S. Midway after a tender from the aircraft carrier was swamped in the Mediterranean last Tuesday, it was announced by the Navy last night.

D. L. Tendler

The announcement said that Tendler, who was in charge of a rescue launch, repeatedly dived into the water to help weakened survivors despite great danger of being crushed between the swamped and rescue launches, which were pounding together violently in heavy seas. It said he succeeded in rescuing all men remaining in the swamped launch, and bringing his own vessel safe into the harbor at Hyeres, France, near which the accident occurred.

Tendler was one of several men listed as having performed heroic work after the tender was swamped. At the time it hit an underwater obstruction it was carrying between 160 and 180 men returning to the Midway after shore leave. At least three men lost their lives in attempting to save others.

COAST GUARD CLEARS OFFICER OF CHARGES IN BARGE SINKING

The commander of the Coast Guard cutter, Fern, has been exonerated of charges that he was delinquent for failure to go to the aid of a barge in a sinking condition on the Ohio river near Cincinnati last Saturday. An investigation was completed yesterday by Commodore Louis Perkins, commander of the St. Louis district.

Commodore Perkins's report stated Lt. Ronald S. Krueger, commanding officer of the Fern, could not have given aid to the barge, Vagabond, without placing his own ship and the lives of the crew in jeopardy. No one was aboard the Vagabond when it was pushed downstream by ice and subsequently sank. The report said that it was "highly improbable" that any rescue attempts made by the Fern would have been successful.

WOMAN, 84, HANGS SELF; BOUND FOR NURSING HOME

Mrs. Bertha Bange, 84-year-old widow, hanged herself yesterday in the basement of her home, 4621 Elmbank avenue.

The body, suspended from a water pipe by a clothesline, was found by Mrs. Bange's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoepfinger, when they returned home at 5:15 p.m. Mrs. Hoepfinger said her mother had been despondent because arrangements were being made to place her in a nursing home. There were no notes.

WOMAN, 74, STRUCK BY AUTO

Mrs. Mary Geer, 74 years old, 2246 Indiana avenue, suffered cuts and bruises last night when she was hit by an automobile when crossing Russell boulevard at Missouri avenue.

The driver, Charles Burde, 4222 Magnolia avenue, said she stepped from between two parked cars and he was unable to avoid striking her. She was taken to City Hospital.

SCHOOLS, COURTS, BANKS TO CLOSE FOR HOLIDAY MONDAY

Banks, schools, federal, state and city courts and offices in the St. Louis area will be closed Monday in observance of the 216th anniversary of Washington's birthday. The anniversary occurs tomorrow but will be observed Monday.

All public and private grade and high schools in the city will be cosed. Classes will be held in some public schools in the cunty including Kirkwood and Webster Groves. Classes will be held as usual at St. Louis University, but none will be held at Washington University, which will mark the ninety-fifth anniversary of its founding.

Postmaster Bernard F. Dickmann's office announced that all post offices in the city and county will be closed. There will be one collection of mail, and special delivery mail will be delivered according to the regular holiday schedule.

Department stores, groceries and other retail stores will remain open, and most commercial and industrial firms will operate as usual.

KAUFMANN ENDS DOUBLE FINING OF BUS DRIVERS

Police Judge Joseph B. Catanzaro's one-man campaign to slow down busses and taxicabs by assessing double fines against drivers of the vehicles who speed was ended abruptly yesterday when Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann found out about it.

The Mayor directed Judge Catanzaro to treat bus or taxicab drivers like anybody else after reading in newspapers that the judge yesterday had levied a $10 instead of a $5 fine against Gilbert Ellegood, 7824 Genesta avenue, Gardenville, because Ellegood is a bus driver.

"Henceforth," the Mayor said, "fines will be assessed on a basis of the law and the evidence presented, not on a basis of the occupation of the guilty person." He directed Judge Catanzaro to restore to Ellegood $5 of the fine. The Mayor appoints police judges, and, under the City Charter, has the responsibility of seeing that ordinances are enforced.

Judge Catanzaro began his campaign last November. The double fine against Ellegood was assessed after his attorney, James H. (Buzz) Connor, made a point of telling the court that his client was a bus driver.

GETS 3 YEARS FOR ROBBERIES

John B. Merriman, 5573 Enright avenue, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary yesterday by Circuit Judge William S. Connor when he pleaded guilty of robbing two cleaning establishments and stealing an automobile.

Last Jan. 17, he held up and robbed the Lungstras Dyeing & Cleaning Co. branch store at 5653 Page boulevard of $15. Two days later, he robbed the firm's store at 1157 Union boulevard of $17, and stole an automobile belonging to Howard Neal, 5628 Clemens avenue.

WOMAN IS DECOY IN THE BEATING OF 2 TAXICAB DRIVERS

Violence Breaks Out Again in Dispute of CIO Union and Company; Armed Man Held.

Violence flared again last night in the dispute between the CIO Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employes and the Mitchell Cabs, Negro taxicab concern, with one taxi overturned, another damaged and two drivers beaten. Previous clashes involved the exchange of revolver shots, beatings and the burning of a taxicab.

Both incidents last midnight began when a Negro woman hailed drivers of Mitchell Cabs, who then were assaulted by four or five Negroes. George Medley, 3835 Cook avenue, told police he was driving his taxicab at Easton and Pendleton avenues when he was stopped by a woman, who got in and rode to Easton and Kennerly avenues where she hit him on the head with a blunt instrument. Four men appeared and gave him a severe beating. Medley broke away and ran, and returned a few minutes later to find his taxicab turned over on its side. Medley was treated at Homer G. Phillips Hospital for cuts and bruise.

Leon Davis, 3021 Delmar boulevard, reported that he was driving his Mitchell Cab in the 1100 block of North Compton avenue when a woman hailed him. As he came to a halt, an automobile pulled in front of his cab and four or five Negroes got out. The men gave Davis a beating, smashed the glass in his taxicab, then drove away. Davis was treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises.

Police investigating the assaults arrested Orell White, Negro driver of a St. Louis Cab, who had a pistol stuck in his left sock. White, booked suspected of carrying a concealed weapon, said he carried the pistol for protection.

The CIO union was bargaining representative for 30 drivers of Mitchell Cabs under a contract, which expired last Dec. 18. Spokesmen for the company said their drivers have not struck, but that drivers of other Negro Cabs are demanding that the contract be renewed. Last Monday a package containing two sticks of dynamite and a fuse was found in a lot about 20 feet from the company's office.

TWO ARRESTED ON SUSPICION OF ESTABLISHING LOTTERY

Police, investigating a report that two men had been meeting each evening at Brannon and Oleatha avenues under suspicious circumstances, yesterday arrested the men and seized policy sheets and $374 cash.

The men, who said they were Arnold Dinkelkamp, 5046 Miami street, and Herman Konrad, 3541A Grace avenue, were booked suspected of establishing a lottery. Officers said Dinkelkamp stood at the corner and when Konrad drove up in his automobile Dinkelkamp took a package from the machine and walked away. The package contained 74 policy top sheets, police said.

In Konrad's machine police found two paper bags containing currency, and he had an additional sum in his pockets. Dinkelkamp said he was paid $25 a week by Konrad to compute totals and commissions of "sales sheets." Konrad denied knowledge of any transaction with Dinkelkamp. Both were released on bond. Police will apply for warrants.

HAROLD A. JONES NOMINATED FOR CIVIL AIR BOARD POST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Harold A. Jones, Los Angeles lawyer, was nominated by President Truman yesterday to one of the two vacancies on the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Jones's nomination is for the remainder of a six-year term expiring Dec. 31, 1952. He is 49 years old, a native of Jackson, O. He attended Ohio State and Yale universities, and has practiced law in Cleveland and Los Angeles. At one time he was an Assistant Attorney General of the anti-trust division, Department of Justice.

Jones served in both World Wars, and in the last war was with the Office of Strategic Services. He also served with the Office of the Co-ordinator of Information in Australia, New Zealand and South Pacific. In the first World War he was a Marine Corps flyer.

DIAMONDS COURIER 'LOST' ON PLANE AT SEA ARE FOUND

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—The disappearance recently of 400 carats of diamonds in a trans-Atlantic flight was reported solved with discovery of a secret cache of $200,000 worth of diamonds at Lakewood, N. J.

C. E. Wyatt, supervising customs agent at New York, said yesterday the diamonds which a courier reported he lost on the plane were included in 800 carats uncovered at Lakewood.

Two Lakewood men were arrested and charged with conspiring to conceal and transport 800 carats in cut diamonds which they knew had been brought into the United States illegally.

Customs officers said 600 carats were found in a tin can buried under a bridge near the Georgian Court School for Girls at Lakewood. The remaining 200 carats, they said, were seized in a Lakewood restaurant.

The men arrested were identified by officials as Jack Stein, 42 years old, and Milton Licht, 43, both waiters. Each was held in $1500 bail for grand jury action.

Officers said Licht is a brother of Allan Licht, 38, courier arrested last Jan. 23 aboard a Europe-bound plane in connection with the disappearance of 400 carats of diamonds which he said were lost on a flight to this country a few days earlier.

Allan Licht was held on grand larceny and embezzlement charges but these were dismissed for lack of evidence. He later returned to Belgium.

STOCKHOLDERS APPROVE LACLEDE GAS REFINANCING

Stockholders of Laclede Gas Light Co., and the board of directors, in special meetings at the company offices today, approved the rearrangement of company finances which was authorized yesterday by the Missouri Public Service Commission. Represented at the stockholders' meeting, virtually all by proxy, were 71 per cent of the shares.

The new arrangeemnts, which include lifting of a year-old limitation of Laclede annual dividends by the commission to 20 cents per share, are designed to avoid a heavy demand for debt retirement which otherwise would have piled up for the near future. They also will facilitate expansion of the gas system and the prospective conversion of the gas supply from a mixture of manufactured and natural gas to straight natural gas.

A new issue of $6,084,000 in convertible debentures will be offered to stockholders and any not subscribed will be sold to investors through an underwriting group. A new bank credit of $4,000,000 with St. Louis, Chicago and New York banks also is included.

THREE FLEE IN NIGHT ATTIRE AS FIRE SWEEPS DWELLING

Three persons were forced to flee in their night clothing early today when fire broke out in a residence at 2319 South Second street. Occupants of an adjoining building were instructed by firemen to leave their home as a precaution, because of a strong wind which blew sparks and flames toward it.

Samuel Green told police he and two sons were asleep on the second floor and were awakened shortly before 4 o'clock by a fire on the first floor. They ran downstairs through smoke and flame to safety. Firemen estimated damage at $2500. The cause of the fire was not determined.

PHYSICIAN HURT IN COLLISION

Dr. Solomon A. Weintraub, a physician, 4515 Maryland avenue, suffered head and rib injuries yesterday when his automobile was struck by a truck at Ladue road and Lindbergh boulevard. He was taken to County Hospital and then to Jewish Hospital.

The truck driver, Robert G. Cobb, 1218 Folger avenue, Kirkwood, suffered minor cuts and bruises. Dr. Weintraub was driving west in Ladue and the truck was south-bound in Lindbergh when the collision occurred at 5:40 p.m.

MARKET CASHIER FAINTS IN HOLDUP; 2 MEN GET $495

The cashier of Foppe's Market, 4104W Lee avenue, was robbed of $495 shortly before noon today by two men, thought by police to be the "shotgun" robbers, although only a pistol was displayed.

Walter Portmann, 5600 Chippewa street, a meatcutter, said there were about 25 customers and seven employes in the store at the time of the robbery.

One of the robbers remained at the door, Portmann said, while the other walked up to Miss Olive Theis, 4418 Elmbank avenue, the only cashier on duty. The robber pressed a pistol against her back, Portmann said, and told her "open the cash drawer."

Miss Theis did so, and the robber scooped the money out of it. His companion, who held the door of the store open during the robbery, did not display a weapon. Both ran out, pursued by some of the employes. They fled through the yard of a house adjoining the store to the west, and down an alley at the rear, outdistancing their pursuers.

There were several customers at Miss Theis's register, waiting to have their groceries checked, at the time of the robbery. As the holdup men fled, Miss Theis fainted. She was not hurt, and regained consciousness after several minutes.

The robber who took the money was described as about 30 years old, tall, thin and wearing a brown jacket and brown felt hat. Portmann said no one paid any attention to the man at the door, apparently not realizing he was taking part in the holdup until after the two fled. The market is owned by Larry Foppe, 3858 Sullivan avenue.

2 CHILDREN HURT BADLY IN HEAD-ON AUTO CRASH

Madeleon Boldizar, 4 years old, and her sister, Ann, 5, were injured seriously today when the automobile in which they were riding with their mother, Mrs. Arthur G. Boldizar, skidded on the snow and struck another automobile head-on. The accident occurred in the 7200 block of Forsythe boulevard.

Mrs. Boldizar, the wife of Dr. Boldizar, 141 Gay avenue, Clayton, told police the wheels of her automobile spun on the ice, causing the machine to skid over to the opposite side of the road. Rodger Gardener, driver of the other automobile, said he could not avoid the accident. He gave his address as Route 2, Creve Coeur.

Madeleon is reported at County Hospital, suffering from a cerebral concussion. Ann, also at County Hospital, has internal injuries. Neither Mrs. Boldizar nor Gardener was injured seriously.

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN WOMAN'S PLUNGE TO DEATH FROM HOTEL

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (UP) — A coroner's jury ruled today that Mrs. Vera Frances Telford, 25 years old, of Norwood, O., died accidentally in a plunge from an eighth floor hotel room.

Mrs. Telford, mother of a 5-year-old boy, was killed yesterday in a fall that ended a few feet from the main entrance of the Sherman Hotel in downtown Chicago. Assistant Cook County Coroner Oscar Tucker told the six-man jury she died of a fractured skull.

Joseph H. Petrie, 43, Cincinnati, part owner of a plywood firm, in whose name the room from which Mrs. Telford plunged was registered, testified that he believed the fall was "purely an accident." He said he knew of no reason for her to commit suicide.

FAMILY OF 3 STARTS ROUND-WORLD TRIP IN KETCH TO RELAX

Sail Today From Balboa Harbor in 39-Foot Boat for Acapulco and Panama.

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 21 (AP)—A young couple whose hobby is sailing boarded their 39-foot ketch along with their 4-year-old son today and prepared to leave on a 'round-the-world voyage which they estimate may take three years.

They are John M. Townsend, an aeronautical engineer, and his wife. The youngster is Roger, and his parents figure he'll be at least 7 when he gets home.

The Townsends plan to sail from Balboa harbor, where they have spent more than a year readying the boat for the voyage.

Townsend said he and his little family feel the need of relaxation and can't figure a better way of getting it. Mrs. Townsend is an accomplished sailor.

TWO SPECTACULAR FIRES IN PITTSBURGH, TWO MISSING

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21 (AP)—Two spectacular fires destroyed a Golden Triangle office building and a large grocery warehouse today. Two persons were missing. Damage was estimated at nearly $600,000.

Burned were the 60-year-old, five-story Jackson building at Sixth street and Penn avenue, and an A.&P. warehouse in the Homewood section.

The Jackson building collapsed about four hours after the blaze broke out late last night. Two adjacent buildings were damaged as blazing debris showered over them. Several firemen were overcome by smoke and one was struck by a brick and injured.

Missing in the downtown fire were Mrs. Irene Westbrook, 40 years old, a cashier in the Sun Drug Co. store in the Jackson building's first floor, and Fireman Gerald W. Levy, 36.

NAVY NEEDS 70,000 MEN BY JULY 1, SAYS SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Secretary Sullivan said today the Navy must recruit or re-enlist 70,000 men before July 1.

"That is the minimum we need to keep our ships and planes and shore stations operating," Sullivan said in a speech. "Upon these men, these ships, and these planes depend to a large extent our security and the peace of the world. We must not fail."

Sullivan said the men are needed because of short-term enlistments now expiring.

Mrs. C. J. Dietrich Is Denied $100,000 Damages Sought From Widow, Mother.

A St. Louis county jury, which for five days heard testimony in the alienation of affections suit of Mrs. Charles J. Dietrich, who asked $100,000 damages, deliberated less than two hours late yesterday and returned a verdict for the defendants, Mrs. Nancy E. McLaughlin, 31-year-old widow, and her mother, Mrs. Grace Henderson.

When the verdict was read in Circuit Judge Amandus Brackman's court at 6:40 p.m., a spectator started to applaud and Mrs. McLaughlin, pale and distraught, said "Oh." Benjamin Hoffmann, courtroom bailiff, rapped for order and got out the smelling salts he keeps handy for such occasions. Hoffmann's ministrations were not necessary as Mrs. McLaughlin's lawyer, Walter Wehrle, hurried her out of the courtroom, and she regained her composure.

Mrs. Henderson, who is president of the Absorene Manufacturing Co., thanked the jury of six men and six women individually before rejoining her daughter. Mrs. Dietrich, who charged that she lost her husband's affections to Mrs. McLaughlin when he was a Navy officer here in 1944, was also present when the verdict was read. Her attorney did not indicate whether an appeal will be taken. Mrs. Dietrich lives in New York, and her husband, now general manager of the Absorene Co., lives at the Missouri Athletic Club.

As the hearing drew to a close yesterday Mrs. McLaughlin testified she is "definitely not in love" with Dietrich. She denied that she had kissed Dietrich, or that either had made expressions of love. Dietrich, on the stand Thursday, testified he had written his wife about the young women he took out when on Navy duty here, and had mentioned "a blonde." The latter reference was to Mrs. McLaughlin. He denied that he met Mrs. McLaughlin clandestinely, stating they had attended dinners and parties at the homes of friends and at hotels and country clubs.

POLICE STATION OIL BURNER ON STRIKE ON COLD N

Police and civilian employes at the Carr Street Police Station, Tenth and Carr streets, were happy the weather didn't get any colder than it did last night.

At about 11 o'clock the station's oil burner stopped operating, shutting off the heat in the station. The building, one of the older district stations still in use, is of heavy construction and did not become too cold during the night police said. It was not necessary to wear overcoats or other heavy clothing while working, they said.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Justice Brandeis Said It

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Permit me to congratulate you on your fine and timely editorial on the Southwestern Bell telephone rate case which may be decided by the State Public Service Commission in Jefferson City in the next few days. You have been making a consistent effort to bring the facts to the attention of the public.

In this editorial you refer to "Other People's Money," the name of a wonderful book written by Justice Brandeis many years ago. It should be read by every citizen who would like to know what has been going on in this great nation of free enterprise for many years. I read the book shortly after it was published and was amazed at the financial manipulations resorted to by large corporations in America. If you read it you understand why Justice Brandeis' nomination was held up for many months before his appointment to the Supreme Court was confirmed.

Another editorial which merits high praise is in reference to the small loans controversy. You refer to this bill and Senator Kinney's argument in favor of it as "simon-pure hogwash." I agree with you fully. It it difficult for me to understand the continuous efforts of labor unions to demand higher wages while they overlook the usury evil which is robbing the wage earner of millions annually.

FAIR PLAY.

Why Not Learn from Nebraska?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I enjoyed very much the article on the model training school for boys by Dickson Terry. In the Nebraska institution the boys get treated fairly and they respond favorably. Why couldn't the Boonville institution use the same system? Perhaps if we would use this system we would turn out better citizens.

KENNETH STOVALL.

"Help!," Simply "Help!"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The story in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch about the woman who encountered a great deal of difficulty in calling the fire department to report a fire brought to mind my own experience recently in phoning for the police.

This experience left me badly shaken, and being quick to learn, I am now prepared for any emergency. Come fire, I will calmly stride through the flames to my telephone, don the asbestos gloves hanging there on the wall and pick up the sizzling instrument without fear. Should I forget the number to dial, that will pose no problem. The correct fire department for our district has been carefully ascertained and the telephone number of same duly posted on the wall in print large enough to read at 50 paces through glasses badly smudged with smoke. I know, I've tested it.

Should an ambulance be required, our magic finger is all set to dial the proper number at a mere push of a button. All I have to do is stagger or crawl, as the case may be, to the telephone, reach up and push the little button and presto! —a voice asks me where I would like to be picked up. I say, "Right here" and relax, comfortable in the knowledge that all will be taken care of for me.

If this system which I have installed proves too involved, there remains an alternative. I am thinking of writing a letter to the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., somewhat as follows:

Dear Mr. S. W. Bell:

I would like to see a service installed that would permit me, in time of stress, to pick up the telephone and yell, "Help, Police!" or "Help, Fire!" or "Help, Ambulance!" and without further ado the operator would immediately know my phone number because of the little light flashing on her board, and from the origin of the call she could look up my address, ascertain which police, fire or ambulance district I was in, and by the time I put down my receiver, help would be arriving at my door. Is this asking too much, Mr. Bell?

The Bad Old Present

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

On a radio program put out by a leading food processing firm we were regaled with accounts of the hardships of the "good old days." Nothing was said of the peace of mind, the satisfaction in doing an honest day's work, the gracious help of neighbors to one another—without always looking for what this present wonderful age demands—pay, more pay.

All this hard work and hardship could not, in the final result, be as bad as the age we are now living in, of class hatred, strife, crime and the breaking down of the morale of all ages.

J. WILLIS UPTON.

1914's More Modern

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I salute Wilder Hobson for his, and your, courageous criticism of the "rolling jukebox" models which American automobile manufacturers are producing.

The "deplorable vulgarity of the American chromium grillwork," as Mr. Hobson points out, is indeed but one item out of the many useless, uncomfortable and rather costly gadgets which should have been discarded along with the models of the "female hippopotamus" period.

Apparently the designers of the late model cars must have taken samples from the antlers of the deer for the uncomfortable grills and bumpers, from the kennels for the crouching-in bodies, and from grandma's bustle dress for the humpy shape of the cars.

After looking at the new models of the American cars one may begin to wonder if the fellow who after a long search paid a high price for a 1914 model car recently because of its simplicity and service, really gave the right answer to the deplorable vulgarity of the modern "rolling jukeboxes."

Dented Armor

In the rate hearings at Jefferson City this week, Southwestern Bell's touted armor of public relations has been not merely dented but pierced by jagged blows.

Under questioning by Morris Osburn, chairman of the Public Service Commission, telephone officials admitted that rate concessions granted in some other states are denied in Missouri. Mr. Osburn cannot understand why telephone subscribers in all states should not be treated alike.

Obvious discrimination was revealed in the treatment of the telephone company's reserve for depreciation. In Missouri alone this reserve reaches the huge sum of nearly $55,000,000. This is 35 per cent of the total property valuation on which Southwestern Bell wants to earn a return.

This is money that has accumulated over a period of years in excess of what was needed to cancel out real depreciation and to yield a fair return on the investment.

If this $55,000,000 represented true depreciation, the rate-making valuation ought to be reduced by that sum. If it is excess earnings above a fair return, it properly belongs to the subscribers, and it still should be credited against the property valuation.

In Illinois, Kansas, Tennessee and some other states, the Bell System accepts this reasoning. It takes the depreciation reserve out of the rate base. But not in Missouri.

An established rule of the Public Service Commission requires the telephone company to pay itself in operating income each year an amount equal to 3 per cent of the depreciation reserve. But the company wants a return of at least 5½ per cent annually on $55,000,000.

The difference between the way the depreciation reserve is handled in Illinois, for example, and in Missouri is the difference between 3 per cent and, say, 5½ per cent annually on $55,000,000. That comes to more than $1,360,000 a year.

There, as Chairman Osburn implies, is a chance to pick up at one swoop 42 per cent of the increase of $3,250,000 which Southwestern Bell is asking.

The Public Service Commission wants to know, furthermore, why, since the company has amassed such an oversized reserve, the annual charge for depreciation should not be cut.

The property is being depreciated at the rate of 3.61 per cent a year. This amounts in Missouri to $5,000,000-plus, or nearly one-eighth of total annual operating expenses. If the annual depreciation allowances were whittled down to size, the saving would amount to several hundred thousand dollars a year. Such a saving, coupled with adjusted interest on the depreciation reserve, would account for at least half the total rate increase the company seeks.

This is to say nothing of the license contract fee which Southwestern Bell pays to A. T. & T. in New York, or of monopoly prices paid the sister subsidiary, Western Electric, or of expansion costs charged to current maintenance, or of failure to include income from new telephones to be installed during the year in estimates of operating revenue. And there are still other charges and accounting practices to be explored later in the inquiry.

In brief, Southwestern Bell's rate application is being treated to the kind of energetic, searching inquiry necessary if a monopoly industry is to be stimulated to efficient operation and if its patrons are to be assured of fair rates.

Narrow-Gauge Politics

The opposition to the transfer of St. Louis City Sanitarium, as led by House Democratic Floor Leader Roy Hamlin, is neither pretty nor astute. First he contended that the state lacks constitutional power to take it over—even though the state already operates every other public mental hospital in Missouri. Then he tried to create hostile rural sentiment with remarks about St. Louis being "one of the wealthiest cities in the country"—when every legislator knows the city government is in severe straits because the federal and state governments have monopolized the best tax sources.

Majority Floor Leader R. J. King Jr. charged Hamlin with fighting the bill to embarrass the Republican administration of Mayor Kaufmann. Hamlin's conduct does invite that strong suspicion, which is why it is not astute.

St. Louis is frequently a real contest between Democrats and Republicans. The St. Louis vote often decides state and senatorial contests. In recent years, to be sure, the city has leaned Republican—and why? Largely because the local Democrats and their cronies across the state have abused their chances with the attempted governorship steal and other unsavory business.

If Mr. Hamlin thinks he can win St. Louis by cynical moves to leave this million-dollar-a-year state responsibility on the city, he'd better think again.

Honorary Dog Catcher No. 376

Mayor O'Dwyer of New York is in an enviable position for a man in elective office. No one can say of him in any future campaign that he couldn't be elected if he ran for dog catcher. He doesn't have to run for dog catcher, having been elected Honorary Dog Catcher No. 376 by the township of Auburn, Me.

It's even better than that. Mr. O'Dwyer is in a position to say of any future opponent that he couldn't be elected Honorary Dog Catcher No. 376 of Auburn, Me. Which ought to be sufficient to pooh-pooh just about anybody's political ambitions.

Spain and the Marshall Plan

The Spanish dictator, Gen. Franco, seems to have two virtues: hope and patience. Despite the revulsion against his seizure and use of power, the little man persists in the notion that his government eventually will be accepted as a partner by the Western democracies.

War and war-induced economic dislocations to a certain extent have played into his hand. For example, France has been forced to re-open the Spanish frontier. But if Franco felt that this was a preliminary to aid under the Marshall plan, he must have been disappointed by the warning served on his foreign minister by Paul Culbertson, the American charge d'affaires.

Even though the 16 Paris nations decided not to invite Spanish co-operation in the recovery program, Culbertson said that the door is not closed to Spain or any other country. But before the threshold can be crossed, he added, Spain must reform its economy, liberalize its political life, and make possible freedom of thought and press. That is virtually to say that Spain must get rid of Franco and the Falange.

Pro-Franco propaganda is beginning to appear, especially in some English publications. Most travelers back from Spain, however, tell of a sullen country under the yoke of a far-reaching political police system. Their observations fit into the usual pattern of fascist tyranny. So it had better be remembered that a dictatorship of the Right is no help against one of the Left.

The State Department will do well not to change its standing order to its representative in Madrid to tell Spanish officials at every opportunity that there must be a housecleaning before Spain can hope to become a beneficiary of the effort to reconstruct Western Europe.

For a Federal Sinking Fund

When an individual with a proper respect for his solvency goes into debt, say for the purchase of a home, he arranges for an orderly retirement of that indebtedness. By one plan or another, he regularly sets aside a sum of money for its eventual discharge. Business firms are even more orderly in this respect. If bonds are outstanding, for example, a sinking fund is set up. Why shouldn't the Federal Government be equally systematic?

Debt reduction is an annual political football. On stump and radio, politicians always favor it. But in an election year especially, they are likely to neglect it in favor of a tax cut. The latter, unfortunately, has the more obvious though less well founded vote appeal.

Thus Representative Knutson, leader of the a-cut-for-a-vote crowd, also gives lip service to debt reduction. He asserts that if his tax bill is enacted, it still will be possible to cut $2,600,000,000 off the national indebtedness. Mr. Truman suggests a $7,500,000,000 debt reduction. The Knutson figure represents only a fraction more than 1 per cent of the total, as is pointed out in Mr. Benedict's article under the cartoon today. At such an annual rate, it would take a century to wipe out the debt. At Mr. Truman's rate, we would be free of it in 34 years.

But aside from all considerations of war, depression or other untoward circumstance which might intervene, the Federal Government has no plan for annual debt cutting at one rate or the other. Unlike the individual or the corporation, it has no sinking fund.

Instead, there are the recurring arguments as to whether to use the surplus to cut taxes or cut the debt. The cheap and short-sighted popularity of the tax cut always has the advantage.

A national policy setting up a firm sinking fund policy should be adopted. Such a policy, if continued by succeeding Congresses for five or 10 years, might gain such prestige and acceptance that even demagogues who thrive on opportunistic tax cuts could not prevail.

Travesty in the House

Rebuking the House Rules Committee, retired Supreme Court Justice Roberts calls its behavior "a travesty of the American system of representative government." The House Armed Services Committee approved universal military training nearly eight months ago, but the Rules Committee is holding it up, and Chairman Leo Allen says the bill "will not become law." Mr. Roberts told him:

> As an individual member of Congress, it is your right and duty to vote your own convictions. In this country, we can both be thankful that the majority still prevails. But it cannot prevail if legalistic jockeying is employed to prevent important measures from being considered by the representatives of all the people.

The committee, as Mr. Roberts says, was never intended "to exercise the right of veto." It was created to schedule an orderly flow of business from committees to the floor. A majority of the House can take a bill away from the committee but this is a difficult task at best. Allen's belief that he can stop the bill is no light boast.

Such conduct is an old story with this committee. Its behavior might be called a kind of corporate Cannonism. It comforts critics of American government, quite apart from the importance of this particular bill to the security of America. The House should reduce the Rules Committee from its usurped role of dictator to its proper role as expediter.

The New Taste of Envelopes

The determination of envelope-makers to give their gummed flaps a new taste is a fine and public-spirited move. This is not because we particularly care for peppermint, but because we particularly didn't care for the way envelope flaps have always tasted.

It was an elusive taste. To some it was a sort of gray, left-over taste, as if it had been standing too long. To others it tasted like a gelatine capsule, or poor man's butterscotch. To still others it tasted the way flypaper looks. Whichever way it tasted, it got worse for awhile after you had licked the flap and then settled down into a small, vaguely unpleasant aftertaste.

So we are glad to put in a lick for the new envelope flap. There's only one hitch. After its peppermint flavor, the average postage stamp is going to come as an awful anticlimax.

Longo Wins Over Hague

John R. Longo's acquittal in Jersey City is a victory for civic decency over the ruthless machine politics of "I Am the Law" Hague. The issue supposedly was whether Longo had fraudulently altered a vote record five years ago. Actually it was whether all the resources of the corrupt Hague outfit, including its minions on the courts, could railroad a political worker who had dared to go against the boss.

As was to have been expected under the circumstances, Longo was convicted notwithstanding his hard fight. He then was turned back in one appeal after another. But he persisted and finally he won a new trial. When the case against him at last came up for review, an impartial judge made short shrift of it. "The evidence," said the court, "was purely circumstantial and not a sufficient hypothesis of guilt to permit the case to go to the jury."

Longo triumphs not only over the Hague machine but the Department of Justice as well. He and his supporters tried for many months to obtain federal intervention in the case on the grounds that the political oppression had violated his civil rights. Frank Murphy as Attorney General ordered an investigation, but under Francis Biddle the Department of Justice declined to interest itself in the case. Those were days when Hague had his way in Washington as well as Jersey City and the boss's henchmen were getting White House appointments.

Less stanch fighters than Longo would have given up. His victory in the end should encourage citizens who are battling political bossism and corruption in other communities.

SECESSION! THAT'S NO JOKE, SON!

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Although determined to cut taxes, Republicans also favor debt reduction, writer points out; this is likely to be an issue in every Congress with debt retirement the less popular alternative; creation of a sinking fund suggested to take the question out of politics.

Bertram Benedict in Editorial Research Reports

Republican tax reduction plans allow for a reduction of $2,600,000,000 in the public debt during the current fiscal year. This was the figure originally set for 1948 debt reduction by the Senate in its action last year on the 1948 legislative budget. When the House insisted that the legislative budget give tax reduction priority over debt reduction, a deadlock ensued.

Harold Knutson

President Truman's recent budget message estimated the surplus this year at $7,500,000,000. He urged that this entire amount go to debt reduction; his proposed lowering of the personal income tax by $40 per person would be counterbalanced by his proposed increases in corporation taxes.

The public debt reached $279,200,000,000 at the end of February 1946, but there was 26 billion net, in the general fund (working balance) of the Treasury. On Jan. 27, 1948, the debt had been reduced to $256,400,000,000, mostly by dipping into the general fund, which at that date stood at $4,100,000,000, net.

Tax Cuts Preferred

If the debt were to be reduced every year by $7,500,000,000, it would be wiped out in 34 years, by 1983. If it were to be reduced by $2,600,000,000, it would be wiped out in 99 years, in 2047.

"But you forget," the supporters of the Knutson bill reply, "that tax reduction makes for greater prosperity and hence higher Treasury surpluses—that this Congress is going to cut Government expenditures below the budget total—that a Republican Administration will produce real Government economy—and that, anyhow, the Treasury consistently underestimates receipts."

To many students of Government finance, it is dangerous for Congress to consider tax reduction in relation to debt reduction, and vice versa, every year. In any such consideration, tax reduction will always have the greater appeal.

From this viewpoint, some debt reduction every year would best be assured by setting up a sinking fund to retire the debt and providing for annual payments into that fund. Then the debt retirement program, ceasing to be a political football, would be definite instead of haphazard.

After the Last War

At the end of World War I, approximately one-half of the public debt was represented by the wartime loans to foreign governments. The other half was considered "domestic war debt."

In March 1919 Congress provided for a cumulative sinking fund designed to retire the domestic half of the debt in 25 years. Annual payments into this sinking fund were to increase automatically. Repayments were to extinguish the other half of the debt also in 25 years.

However, the refunding agreements beginning in 1923 allowed the foreign debtors 62 years, in most cases, in which to liquidate their indebtedness. Sums due under these agreements were paid until 1931-32, then ceased.

And as a result of the depression of that period, the debt began to increase in the fiscal year 1931.

A 3 Per Cent Reduction

Between 1919 and 1931, the debt was reduced by 36.5 per cent, from $25,500,000,000 to $16,200,000,000. The reduction (some every year) averaged $345,000,000 annually. This average annual reduction amounted to 3 1-3 per cent of the total debt on June 30, 1919.

Today a reduction of $7,500,000,000 would amount to almost 3 per cent of the debt, one of $2,600,000,000 to a little more than 1 per cent.

While the debt was being reduced by more than one third in 1919-31, four reductions were made in the personal income tax.

Underpaid Federal Administrators

From the Des Moines Register

President Truman has been criticized, and justly, for the number of military men he has appointed to civilian posts. And although he has complained of the difficulty of getting competent civilians to accept high positions, the President has failed to retain several highly-qualified administrators.

However, much of the blame for the difficulty in enlisting competent citizens in Government service must rest with Congress, because of the inadequate salary scale it has imposed upon Government officials. The present plight of the Civil Aeronautics Board is a good example.

At a time when our air policy, both military and civil, is desperately in need of development and division, only two members remain on the five-man board.

Clarence M. Young resigned to take a $17,500-a-year job in charge of the Los Angeles municipal airports. Chairman James M. Landis was not reappointed. Harllee Branch, who is 68, resigned because of "high living costs in Washington" and because he is "quite tired." He agreed to stay until May, so the board would have a quorum.

Two other important civil air posts soon will be vacant. Theodore P. Wright, Civil Aeronautics Administrator and an expert on air safety, is leaving to become vice president of Cornell University, in charge of research, at a reported salary of $20,000. His chief deputy, Charles Stanton, is to get about the same salary as the head of Brazil's air schools.

The federal salary paid these two men and the members of the Civil Aeronautics Board is $10,000. The CAB jobs originally paid $12,000 but were limited by Congress to $10,000.

Several competent civil airmen have been approached by Mr. Truman. They have shied away from the $10,000-a-year jobs because of the inadequate pay—as compared to what they receive in private industry—and the abuse that Government appointees take these days.

Congress nearly two years ago recognized the necessity of increasing the salary of its own members, for it was false economy to drive able policy-makers from the capital. Similar consideration should be given to the key administrators.

DRAW THE LINE.

From the Detroit News.

Dr. Gallup's poll takers, ordinarily busy learning what the people think about important matters, have taken time out to measure public opinion on the public wearing of slacks by women.

Of men, 34 per cent approve; 30 per cent say NO. Among women, 49 per cent say NO, and 30 per cent approve.

We think a fair compromise is this: If the woman is so constructed that all-revealing slacks emphasize her beauty, wear 'em; otherwise, NO.

Between Book Ends

Texas Corregidor

THE ALAMO, by John Myers Myers. (E. P. Dutton and Co., New York.)

Stanley Walker in New York Herald Tribune

John Myers Myers, scholar and novelist, has delved deep into the documents, both old and fairly recent, bearing upon the fall of the Alamo mission in San Antonio in 1836 and has come up with a chatty, clear and well informed account of approximately what happened in that bloody and glorious time. Approximately—for, remember, the members of the garrison who remained to the last were butchered to a man, and they left no tales.

Notwithstanding all the gaps and disputed points, the story of the Alamo may be pieced together from the fragments, many of them reliable or at least plausible. Many pamphlets, bits of memoirs, old interviews and a few sensible analyses, such as Miss Amelia Williams' "A Critical Study of the Alamo," are valuable.

John Myers Myers

The trouble has been that most writers, even the sober ones, have been inclined to overwrite and sentimentalize and run far afield in speculation when they came to deal with the noble and ghastly event. Mr. Myers himself says in his first sentence: "Those who doubt the greatness of men can leave this book alone or read and recant."

From a military viewpoint, the attempted defense of the Alamo was foolhardy, foredoomed to failure. And yet, from the viewpoint of the larger strategy, it set the stage for the later Texas victory at San Jacinto by so severely mauling the troops of Santa Anna that the Texans were able to rally their disorganized forces.

Without the Alamo there could have been no Texas victory. Such considerations, and others, may be useful for such visitors as Calvin Coolidge, who on a passage through San Antonio once came upon the old Alamo and inquired, "What is it that this place is famous for?"

Mr. Myers provides sketchy but recognizable biographies and studies of the Mexican dictator, Santa Anna, and three of the leading defenders — Davy Crockett, bear hunter and storyteller; Jim Bowie, the knife fighter and dauntless gentleman; William B. Travis, the red-headed commander, whose messages from the doomed fortress still have the power to raise a lump in the throat. His account of the actual fall of the Alamo, the tactics of both sides, is as clear as could be expected when one considers the conflicting nature of much of the material.

Probably because he was determined to use self-restraint, Mr. Myers somehow manages to make his story of the Alamo almost pedestrian. While keeping his emotions in check and giving a casual air to the narrative, he somehow seems to lose the feel of the great tale, so that at the end one has the impression of having read a competent but rather incomplete memorandum. Well, even that is preferable to much of the magniloquent gush that the story of the Alamo has produced.

Chips From Presidential Blocks

PRESIDENTS' SONS, by J. J. Perling. (The Odyssey Press, New York.)

The 80 sons of 20 American Presidents are the subjects of this worth-while investigation. Beginning with John Adams, husband of Abigail, and ending with Franklin D. Roosevelt, he finds that despite some lapses into the habit of drink, misdirected financial activities and other oddities, they were worthy of their honorable names, became prominent lawyers, leading business men, scholars of repute.

More of them than might have been expected seem to have been born to parents who were willing to pass on John Adams' Spartan advice to his wife: "Make them great and manly. Teach them to scorn injustice, ingratitude, cowardice and falsehood. Let them revere nothing but religion, morality and liberty."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Standing on a Knife Edge

IN a recent speech Chairman David Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy Commission told a story about Orville and Wilbur Wright. The two brothers left their successful bicycle business in Dayton, Ohio, some 40-odd years ago to try out their homemade airplane in North Carolina.

One day their sister in Dayton got a telegram reading: "First sustained flight today. Fifty-nine seconds. Very happy. Home by Christmas."

She rushed to a local newspaper office with the world-shaking news that man for the first time had made a flight in a heavier-than-air machine. The next day, in the personal columns, the following headline appeared: "Popular local bicycle merchants home for holidays."

Robert Bacher

Lilienthal told this story, which may well be legendary, to illustrate how a discovery meaning revolutionary change can be ignored. The members of the AEC are trying to make the American people understand what a revolution has been wrought by atomic fission.

Smear Campaign.

A year ago, when the names of the five members of the Atomic Energy Commission were up for confirmation, a smear campaign with overtones of hysteria was unloosed. This originated with those who had tried to prevent civilian authority from taking over and it was aimed particularly at Chairman Lilienthal.

Senator Vandenberg stood firm. So did Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, who, as chairman of the Senate committee considering the appointments, insisted on getting the facts. Since then, as chairman of the joint Senate-House committee supervising the commission, Hickenlooper has been a working partner in the project that means so much for the future of the world. He recently completed a tour of inspection that took him to the Pacific Coast and back.

A New Bikini.

The only scientist member of the commission is Robert F. Bacher, who played a part in developing atomic fission. Bacher has proved one of the most useful commissioners, impressing Congressmen with his practicality as well as with his scientific grasp of the new revolutionary forces.

Bacher will probably be the only commissioner to fly to the AEC-Navy proving ground on Eniwetok atoll in the Far Pacific for new and highly secret tests this summer.

On Aug. 1 the terms of the five commissioners expire. If they were all to be replaced, progress and continuity would undoubtedly suffer. The unsettling effect would be felt a long way down the line.

Staggered Terms.

This poses a ticklish problem in an election year. It involves the success of a two-billion-dollar undertaking that belongs to you and me. The basic security of the nation may depend on continuing progress in atomic development.

The law provides that, after the two-year period ending Aug. 1, the commissioners shall be named for separate terms—one for one year, and one for two years, one for three years, one for four years and one for five years. If President Truman should decide to reappoint all the commissioners willing to accept re-appointment, he might do it in two ways.

He could send the names to the Senate two or three months before the Aug. 1 deadline. Then they could be considered before Congress quits for the election campaign. Or they could be sent up after Congress leaves, as recess appointments. The commissioners could serve in the interval, and then, if a Republican President came in, he could decide what he wanted to do.

Hopeful Beginning.

Whatever is done should be done with appreciation of the fact that the present Atomic Energy Commission has done a good job.

It is hard for most of us to remember and to realize what atomic energy means. The other day the mayors of 250 cities meeting in New York got a brand-new shock when Maj. Gen Harold R. Bull, deputy chief of the Army general staff, spelled out exactly what would happen if a single atomic bomb fell on the center of a city.

Mankind stands on a knife edge between a new heaven and a new hell. Gloomy forebodings come crowding in. Therefore it is good to know that a hopeful beginning has been made toward encompassing atomic energy within our political system.

WALTER LIPPMANN

An Inflationary Proposal

THE Millikin amendment would set aside three billions of this year's Treasury surplus to be used in the fiscal year beginning in July to help finance the ERP. This device undoubtedly makes it easier for the Marshall plan to survive in the competition among the other large claimants for funds — China, Greece, Turkey, Germany, the strategic air force, universal military training and also the taxpayers who want their taxes reduced.

A large and difficult question of policy is, however, raised by the amendment. In principle, the Treasury surplus which is accumulating this year had already been set aside, and was to be used to reduce the Government debt held by the banks. The object of reducing the debt was, of course, to make bank credit scarcer, and thus to moderate the inflation.

Senator Millikin

The total surplus this year is estimated at $7,500,000,000 by the Treasury and at $8,700,000,000 by the joint congressional committee. If these figures can be taken at face value, they would mean that even with the Millikin amendment, there would be a sizable surplus left for the deflationary measure of reducing the debt.

Golden Avalanche.

There are, however, high authorities in the field of monetary affairs who say that, owing to gold imports and to the funds used to support the Government bond market, only a small part of the surplus is really available for genuine deflation.

For the bank reserves created by the gold imports and by the bond purchases in the open market offset in considerable measure the bank reserves extinguished by paying off bonds held by the banks.

The Millikin amendment is, therefore, inflationary. If, in addition, Congress reduces taxes and if it does not clamp down on the activities of the many Government corporations which are multiplying credit, the net effect of Government policy will not be to apply the brakes, but to step on the gas.

This can be justified as a matter of public policy only if we have already passed the peak of the inflation and are now entering upon a period of deflation and recession.

Reduce the Debt.

The truth of the matter is that at this time no one knows for sure what the real situation is. The consequences of the inflation are, of course, very obvious in the high prices of goods, in very full employment and in the heavy demand for critical materials.

But because deflationary forces take time to produce their effects, they are often invisible in the earlier phases. That is why not only speculators but also monetary experts who must advise on matters of high fiscal policy find it so extremely difficult to judge a situation like the present one.

All one can be reasonably certain about is that at this time there are both inflationary and deflationary forces at work, that it is not clear which will prevail, and that, therefore, the sound policy is to be very flexible and alert—to see which way the cat is going to jump, and to be prepared to act accordingly.

In regard to taxes this would mean getting a bill ready to reduce taxes but not to reduce them unless there are signs that a depression, as distinct from a readjustment of prices, is setting in. And for the time being it would mean continuing, not reversing, the policy of using the Treasury surplus to reduce Government debt.

Exhaustion Abroad.

A little later on the indications may be clear enough to justify a modification of this austere fiscal policy. For the deflationary forces already in motion, though they are not spectacular, may gradually be producing powerful effects.

In the past few months there has been an increase in interest rates. There has been a reduction in bank deposits. There has been a break in bond prices. The crop prospects are very much better than had been anticipated.

And there is throughout the world an accelerating exhaustion, not only in Europe but in the Western Hemisphere, of dollars for the purchase of American exports.

Beyond that there is the impending British financial crisis, an almost certain demonstration that the economic plans for a German revival are largely miscalculated and unworkable, not to speak of what may be expected in China and Japan.

Only a Palliative.

It is now almost mathematically certain that about half of the Marshall plan—the half that is designed for Britain and Germany—can only mitigate the trouble, that it cannot produce recovery and restore solvency.

That half is none the less important politically and humanly. But in a prudent and objective estimate of what probably lies ahead, we must brace ourselves against surprises and shocks coming from that great part of the world economy of which Britain is the strategic center.

The crisis could be of such dimensions that emergency measures, above and beyond the Marshall plan, may become imperative. This is not intended, of course, to be alarmist, and there is no reason for hysteria. In fact, hysteria would only make matters worse.

But the portents are sufficient to demand on our part planning and preparation for many contingencies which have not yet been taken into account in our vastly over-extended, infinitely complicated, and thinly supported, general policy.

BYRD TO SOUTH: HOLD FIRE BUT KEEP POWDER DRY

Wants to Be Sure of Goal Before Cutting Political Ties Over Civil Rights Program.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Senator Byrd of Virginia gave the Democratic party's Southern rebels this advice today: Hold your fire—but keep your powder dry.

Byrd told a reporter he wants the South to be sure where it is going before it cuts long-standing political ties in the dispute over President Truman's anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and anti-segregation proposals.

"We must make a calm, deliberate decision, on the basis of events as they happen and then be prepared to go through with it to the end," he said.

Resolution Condemns Program.

Nearly half of the 103 House members from 11 Southern states have adopted a resolution condemning the President's program. They will confer with five Southern governors here Monday.

The five governors are Laney of Arkansas, Cherry of North Carolina, Thurmond of South Carolina, Jester of Texas and Tuck of Virginia. They will meet later Monday with Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, Democratic national chairman.

The Southern Governors' Conference on Feb. 8 gave the national Democratic headquarters 40 days to toss out the civil rights program.

McGrath has promised to relay their complaints to Truman.

Southern House members hoped to have the resolution signed by 75 of their number and ready by that time to be sent to the President.

They got about 50 signers yesterday at a meeting called by Representatives Clark of North Carolina, Smith of Virginia, Cox of Georgia, Richards of South Carolina, Harris of Arkansas, Gossett of Texas, Hobbs of Alabama and Sikes of Florida. Representative Colmer of Mississippi was named chairman of the group. Tennessee and Louisiana also were represented.

Opposition Pledged.

The resolution pledges signers to oppose enactment of laws to put the President's proposals into effect. It urges the Democratic party not to put into its platform "that which would assuredly jeopardize its success in the south."

At Columbia, Mo., Ellis Arnall, former Governor of Georgia, predicted Southern Democrats would not carry through with their revolt. Arnall told University of Missouri students he believed Truman would win the Democratic nomination and pick his own running mate.

"I hope he picks someone who is liberal and progressive," he said.

Other political developments:

Henry A. Wallace returned from a Southern speaking trip, with the opinion that no "major split" in the Democratic party is likely to result from the civil rights fight.

He told reporters at Newark, N.J., he would be glad to return to the Democratic fold if his old party "proves it's a peace party." He said, however, there was "no present indication" the Democratic party would revise its foreign policy and become a "peace party."

As for his own political campaign, Wallace said it "looks better all the time, but it's still young."

Taylor to Reveal Position.

Senator Taylor (Dem.), Idaho, who has been mentioned as a possible running mate with Wallace on a third party ticket, will state Monday night in a radio broadcast what he is going to do. His announcement said he will end "speculation as to whether he will actively support" Wallace.

At Philadelphia, Wilson W. Wyatt, national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, told the opening session of an A.D.A. convention:

"We are concerned about the extent to which the familiar Communist method of character assassination now permeates the third party drive. . . . Some of us stood with Mr. Wallace in the past. Others have not. I believe we are unanimous in rejecting the course he is now pursuing."

He said, "To the extent that there is bipartisan support for the European recovery program, it is a symbol of both wisdom and the vision of America.

"If the plan is wrecked either by outright rejection or by guerrilla warfare, the forces of the extreme right and left will have won their most momentous victory. Then all Europe may actually become a battleground, with the liberal center crushed in the struggle."

Stassen for Labor Law Change.

At Eugene, Ore., Harold Stassen, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said the section of the Taft-Hartley Law which forbids union political activity is a "serious invasion of freedom" and ought to be repealed. He told a convention of Oregon newspaper editors and publishers he thinks the new labor law is working out well as a whole, however.

At Los Angeles, Gov. Earl Warren of California said he doubted "if anyone is entirely satisfied with all provisions" of the Taft-Hartley Act. In a radio interview he said he opposed two provisions, those barring union contributions to political campaigns and requiring union leaders to file affidavits saying they are not Communists. He said both provisions are discriminatory in that they do not apply to employers.

At East Orange, N.J., Senator Morse (Rep.), Oregon, said Senator Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, would be the "best presidential candidate to unite the Republican party and lead it to victory" this year. Vandenberg "is the most desirable dark horse we have," Morse told an American Brotherhood meeting last night.

At Denver, Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, said the nation was "threatened" with a breakdown of the two-party political system. He told Republican leaders of 11 Western states that "if history proves the Democrat Administration destroyed the two-party system in the United States, that will be another major injury to the nation for which the Administration will have to take responsibility."

Rail Pierces Derailed Locomotive

A rail which broke at joint punched out the headlight of this locomotive of a Norfolk & Western streamliner which overturned in a derailment near Portsmouth, O., yesterday. The rail extended far into the engine, but did not reach the cab. The fireman was killed in the accident.

THOMAS MOSES DIES; ILLINOIS MINE CHIEF

DANVILLE, Ill., Feb. 21 (AP)—Thomas Moses, director of the Illinois State Mines and Minerals Department and former president of two Pittsburgh (Pa.) coal companies, died yesterday after an illness of about two months. He was 78 years old.

Moses was named to the state post last October, succeeding Robert M. Medill. Medill resigned shortly after the March 25 Centralia mine explosion in which 111 miners lost their lives.

Moses at one time was president of the United States Coal & Coke Co. and the H. C. Frick Coke Co. in Pittsburgh.

Moses is survived by his widow, Robena Pringle Moses; a daughter, Mrs. Harold Leverenz of Danville, and two sons, Harry M. Moses, president of the Illinois Mining Institute, and George Moses, vice president of the Union Supply Co., Pittsburgh.

FUNERAL SERVICE MONDAY FOR HENRY X. BUCHMANN

Funeral services for Henry X. Buchmann, a treasurer of the Western Catholic Union for 28 years, will be Monday at 9 a.m. at SS. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church, Eighth street and Allen avenue. Burial will be in Mount Olive Cemetery. Mr. Buchmann was 87 years old and died Thursday at his home at 2303 South Eighteenth street.

Mr. Buchmann was born in France and came to St. Louis in 1882. He opened a barber shop at 824 Geyer avenue and operated it until his retirement in 1924. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Marie E. Buchmann, and three sons, Arthur M., Florence A., and Emile H. Buchmann.

EMMA K. KAATMAN FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma K. Kaatman, widely known for many years as the proprietor of a restaurant, grocery and tavern in Creve Coeur, were held today at the Baumann Bros. funeral home, Overland, with burial in Valhalla Cemetery. Mrs. Kaatman, who died Wednesday, was 57 years old.

Surviving are her husband, Raymond A. Kaatman, and two daughters, Mrs. Mary L. Arens of Florissant and Mrs. Dorothy G. Young of Robertson, Mo.

high enough to carry their own expenses and show a reasonable return, and that it was to the advantage of business interests in the larger cities to accept rates for those cities which would help maintain good telephone service outstate.

Method Used by 36 States.

State-wide rate schedules were advocated strongly by Towles. The Missouri commission, in findings three years ago in a Southwestern Bell valuation proceeding, declared that it favored the state-wide method, in principle, for this company and "unless persuaded to the contrary in the meantime, will act accordingly, if and when occasion to do so presents itself." Towles testified that 36 to 38 of the states use the state-wide method for telephone rate regulation.

Forrest G. Ferris Jr., St. Louis associate city counselor, and Jerome M. Joffee, Kansas City special utilities counsel, are trying to show, in effect, that the rate increases for these cities would be unnecessary, under the exchange method. The company has estimated the annual increases for the St. Louis district exchange (including major suburbs) at $419,047 and for the Kansas City district exchange at $598,972.

If the commission should be persuaded to adopt the exchange method, the entire structure of the company's proposed rate increase doubtless would be upset.

This structure is designed to group the smaller cities of Missouri by population classes and equalize local telephone service charges within each class. Towles explained that a large part of the proposed Kansas City increases were intended to put charges there on a level with St. Louis, which has only about 46 per cent more telephones than Kansas City, although its population is about twice as large.

Greatest Earnings in Cities.

Average earnings of the telephone business in these two larger cities are greater than elsewhere in the state, said Towles. Joffee asked him whether the rate increase for the two cities could be justified if regulation was on the exchange basis.

"The rate schedule in the application," Towles replied, "contemplates that St. Louis and Kansas City will pay charges that will encourage development of an adequate and satisfactory telephone system throughout the state. It's to the selfish interest of business in the larger cities to have it this way."

Joffee repeated his question as to justification of the city increases.

"I would first have to know what St. Louis and Kansas City are earning for the company," said Towles.

"You do know what they're earning?" Joffee asked.

"Only on the basis of 1941 figures," said Towles, continuing: "Some of the smaller exchanges in the state don't carry their own weight. The state-wide basis is the only way you can expect to fairly divide the business."

"Do you base the rates on the value of the service?" Morris E. Osburn, commission chairman, inquired. Towles said that was true.

Osburn's next question was whether the company, in fixing rates, disregarded the earnings, or rate of return on investment, of "any particular exchange area." Towles' reply to this was a reference to the company's contention that value of service increases with the size of the community and the resultant higher volume of telephones that can be reached by local calls.

Commissioners Kyle D. Williams and E. L. McClintock joined in this phase of the interrogation. McClintock wanted to know if there was any other modern way of fixing rates in the United States, to which Towles replied the statewide basis had been in effect generally for many years.

Allocation of Salaries.

"I'm wondering," Osburn continued, "where you fix rates by exchanges, how you allocate salaries for the high-priced lawyers and, say, the company president's salary?"

Towles answered that complete allocation of such general expenses might result in "a price so high you couldn't sell the service." The commission recalled that its 1943 inquiry, covered in its 1945 Southwestern Bell report, showed that rates fixed on the exchange basis might result in a charge of $54 a month for business telephones in some small towns of Missouri.

Ferris called attention to the fact that Texas, where Southwestern Bell does about 40 per cent of its business, has no state regulation, but that the company deals there with about 270 separate cities. He asked how the company allocated its general expenses in Texas.

"Texas," said Towles, "is an outstanding example of why the exchange system of regulation should not be used. St. Louis would not want the exchange basis, if it understood the effects."

"You're not speaking for St. Louis," Ferris reminded the witness.

"No," said Towles, "but I know what business leaders there would want."

"The company built up this complicated system in Missouri," Ferris declared, "by buying little exchanges which, you knew when you bought them, never did and never could pay a fair return. What did you acquire them for, if you didn't expect St. Louis and Kansas City to carry the deficit?"

"The company has a responsibility to provide service generally," said Towles.

County Zone System.

County Counselor Erwin F. Vetter of St. Louis county questioned Towles about the proposed increases, which would aggregate $192,317 a year in the county, not counting a suburban fringe immediately adjacent to St. Louis. He endeavored to prove discrimination against the county. Towles told how zones had been set up within the county as suburban population grew and the towns there no longer were isolated units. Towles denied that these zones retarded development of the county.

If the county were treated, ror rate-making, as a single municipality, Vetter asked whether the zone system of varying rates would be retained. Towles said he could not tell what would be done, but that such treatment would not necessarily alter the "calling habits" of the people and their requirements for service, which affect rate structure. Vetter asked if it would be feasible to convert St. Louis county into a single zone.

"It could be done," Towles replied, "but if we did, every one in that zone would have to take the service set up for the single zone, whether or not they wanted it, and they would have to pay rates accordingly."

Student Head of Organization Says It Is Autonomous Group.

Washington University students are arguing about whether or not the university Young Progressive Citizens of America chapter should be permitted to hold meetings on the campus. The question is pending before the university Senate, student governing body which must recognize an organization before meetings can be held.

Norman Friedman, college of liberal arts junior who is a co-chairman of the campus YPCA, said the organization is autonomous. Unlike the national PCA, it has not endorsed Henry Wallace for president and will not do so, he said.

Aims of the group, he reported, are to promote democracy by making students more active politically; to work for lasting peace and to eliminate racial or group discrimination on the campus. Opponents of the organization contend that it is not actually an independent body, and is "dominated from outside."

Miss Virginia Rodriguez, co-chairman of the Senate, said the Senate voted recognition shortly before Christmas by a vote of 20 to 19, but then decided to reconsider. A Senate committee is now investigating activities of campus YPCAs at other colleges. Student Life, student newspaper, believes the organization should be recognized in the interests of freedom of expression.

THOMAS CURTIS NAMED TAFT DRIVE HEAD IN EAST MISSOURI

Thomas B. Curtis, an attorney with offices in the Security Building, 319 North Fourth street, has been appointed campaign manager for Senator Robert A. Taft in the eastern half of Missouri in Taft's race for the Republican nomination for President, it was announced today.

Curtis said arrangements are being made to open a campaign headquarters in St. Louis. Work at present is being concentrated on organization of the campaign by congressional districts, he said. In addition, he is assisting a Kansas City group in organizing a campaign in the western half of the state.

A graduate of Dartmouth College in 1932, Curtis received his law degree from Washington University in 1935. He is a member of the St. Louis County Republican Central Committee.

HENRY HIRSHFIELD FUNERAL

Funeral services for Henry Hirschfield, owner of the Hirschfield Home Furnishings Co. of East St. Louis, will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Rindskopf undertaking establishment, 5216 Delmar boulevard. He was 66 years old and died Wednesday of a heart ailment while visiting in Phoenix, Ariz. He lived at 6312 North Rosebury avenue, Clayton.

Mr. Hirschfield was a former president of the Retail Merchants' Association of East St. Louis. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Birdie Benjamin Hirschfield, and a daughter, Mrs. Sam B. Margulis. Burial will be in Mount Sinai Cemetery.

G.O.P. AGREEMENT FOR 30-DAY RENT LAW EXTENSION

Taft Says Senate Will Be Asked to Act Next Week on House Bill With Such a Provision.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—A 30-day extension of rent controls was agreed on today by Senate and House Republican leaders. The present controls are due to expire Feb. 29.

Senator Taft (Rep.), Ohio, told reporters the Senate would be asked to act late next week on a 30-day extension bill the House is expected to pass Tuesday.

The extension would allow both chambers time to decide whether to continue controls, for how long and in what form. The Senate now is debating a bill to continue controls 14 months with some changes from the present law.

Chairman Wolcott (Rep.), New Jersey, said his House Banking Committee would not consider until later the proposed 14-month extension bill. Taft said this may be approved by the Senate Tuesday.

Because of this, Taft said it would be necessary for the Senate to act on the 30-day extension, proposed by the House. Taft said the Senate would go ahead with the long-range measure to get it out of the way.

Wolcott said the House group would hold several days of hearings on the long-range measure before it acts.

Senator Cain (Rep.), Washington, said earlier that he might join opponents of a proposal to jail and fine rent control violators. Such a provision is included in the 14-month extension measure the Senate is considering.

Senators Ives (Rep.), New York, and Baldwin (Rep.), Connecticut, presented an amendment yesterday, to recontrol residential hotel accommodations, which were freed last year.

They also would soften a provision to lift ceilings from "luxury" housing renting for $225 a month or more. Ives and Baldwin would raise the limit to $400 on unfurnished apartments.

Senator McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin, introduced an amendment to turn control over to governors in states having rent control laws.

MRS. ELLA ARNOLD FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Buchanan Arnold, widow of Frank Arnold, general contractor in St. Louis for 54 years, will be Monday at 9 a.m. at St. Luke's Catholic Church, Bellevue and Dale avenues, Richmond Heights. Mrs. Arnold was 82 years old and died today of infirmities of age at her home, 1203 Sunset avenue, Richmond Heights.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Lola Arnold, and a son, Arthur Arnold. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

HEADS HISTORICAL GROUP

GREEK CABINET UPHELD, 190 TO 90, IN WAR ON REBELS

Sophoulis Government Wins Confidence Vote After Five-Day Debate on Military Policy.

ATHENS, Feb. 21 (AP)—Premier Themistokles Sophoulis's coalition Government has won a 190 to 90 confidence vote in its war on guerrillas.

The ballot yesterday followed a five-day debate. When the coalition of Sophoulis's Liberals, the Royalists and minor parties took office last September it received a 279 to 1 vote of confidence.

Action will be taken Monday on a hotly contested bill to suspend Parliament for two or three months. Both Sophoulis and Royalist Vice Premier Constantin Tsaldaris contend parliament members could serve Greece better by being with their constituents as loyalists prepare for an offensive against the guerrillas. Minor party leaders, however, brand the bill a "steamroller."

"No government can be perfect, but ours is the best under the circumstances," he said. "Victory will be ours. We are determined to win. This is not a civil war, but an incursion by a foreign nation."

Twenty persons, including a woman, were executed in Athens today. Nine were convicted by a military tribunal Feb. 17 in the killing of a policeman and plans to assassinate Greek political leaders. The others were found guilty of having been members of a Communist execution squad which killed hundreds of civilians near Athens in the 1944 civil war.

(The United Press said yesterday that a group of American fighting planes has been presented to Greece. It said also that about a dozen planes had been delivered earlier this month. United States authorities said the new group, drawn from surplus stock in Europe, would be armed and used to some extent for combat.)

Dispatches from Saloniks said a Greek liaison officer told the United Nations Commission on the Balkans that Hungarian field dressings were found in the pockets of rebels who surrendered last month. The reports added that UNSCOB would check four incidents which the Greek officers said indicate that Yugoslavia and Bulgara aided the guerrillas.

UNSCOB subcommittees also are investigating Albanian charges that its territory was violated by Greek artillery and aircraft between Jan. 22 and Feb. 2.

Astrid Varnay Sings Isolde Role For Helen Traubel on Short Notice

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Astrid Varnay, American-trained Swedish soprano, took over the arduous part of Isolde in the Metropolitan Opera Company's production of "Tristan and Isolde" on less than an hour's notice last night.

The curtain was held for a few minutes but the night was saved for the Met.

Helen Traubel was scheduled for the role but found that she had no voice when she started to vocalize in her dressing room. That was about 7:15 p.m. Frantic telephoning by Met officials located the 28-year-old Miss Varnay and she arrived within a half hour.

In a telephone interview today Miss Varnay recalled that she made her grand opera debut as a substitute, taking over the role of Sieglinde from the same Miss Traubel. That was on Dec. 6, 1941, the day before Pearl Harbor.

On another occasion she took over the role of Brunnhilde when Lotte Lehman was unable to go on.

Both times, however, Miss Varnay was given much more time to prepare her role. An unwritten law of the opera requires that a performer be notified before noon if she has to go on.

"That gives one time to practice and to eat a good steak," Miss Varnay said. "Last night I went on after a dinner of Chinese vegetable soup. And I had been running around all afternoon."

Miss Varnay said she had sung the role of Isolde only seven times in her career and not for at least a year before last night. She went on with only part of her make-up and only a few minutes to practice breath control.

MRS. EMMA HORNE NOLL DIES

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Horne Noll will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Lupton undertaking establishment, 7233 Delmar boulevard, University City. She was 68 years old and died yesterday of a heart ailment at her home, 5591 Vernon avenue.

Surviving are a son, E. Raymond Noll, and a daughter, Mrs. Florence N. Majers. Mrs. Noll was the widow of Martin J. Noll, field secretary of the Missouri Pharmaceutical Association. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Gen. Wheeler's Mother Dies.

MacPhail Charges Rickey 'Double-Crossed' 15 Big League Clubs

Authorized to Report On Negro Baseball, He Privately Signed Stars

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Larry MacPhail and Branch Rickey were embroiled today in a sizzling word-fest concerning the admittance of Negro players into major league baseball.

MacPhail, former New York Yankees co-owner, said crisply that Rickey "was lying" if he claimed 15 big league clubs had opposed entry of Negroes into the majors.

Both have mixed it before in baseball matters.

Meanwhile, officials of the national sport remained quietly "in the grandstand" watching and waiting for the final score. Everyone contacted had "no comment."

It all began last Monday night when Rickey addressed the annual dinner of Wilberforce University.

The Dodger boss told his listeners at the Ohio Negro university that after he had signed Jackie Robinson a joint major league meeting adopted a report declaring "the use of Negro players would hazard all the physical properties of baseball." The meeting was in Chicago in the fall of 1946.

Larry Was Policy Chairman.

MacPhail was chairman of the joint major league policy committee at the time. He said that former baseball associates felt he should reply to the Dodger president's claims.

"In view of the fact that Rickey has charged every official in the major leagues except Rickey with dishonesty, I am glad to comply," MacPhail declared.

Rickey said at Wilberforce that 15 clubs, but not Brooklyn, adopted the report against Negroes, and that league officials said later the report was destroyed.

In his Miami Beach statement, MacPhail said:

"1. Rickey was lying if and when he said the committee recommended that Negro players be barred from major league baseball. . . .

"2. Rickey was lying if and when he said that 15 major league clubs (all except Brooklyn) voted to approve any such recommendation or took any action of any kind to prevent Rickey or any other club owner from signing Negro players.

"3. Rickey was lying if and when he said that copies of the committee's report were collected to destroy evidence of some recommendation or proposal having to do with the participation of Negroes in the major leagues."

The erstwhile Yankee president and treasurer, who sold his club holdings after the Yanks won the 1947 world series, said:

"The printed reports were collected at the request of the commissioner (Chandler) because they contained a criticism of the commissioner, written by me, which the commissioner felt was unfair and not constructive."

Well, Well, There Was a Report!

MacPhail said the committee agreed to delete these portions, collected the reports, and made one revised copy.

"That report as originally written, and as revised, is and has always been in my possession."

MacPhail said that in 1945 he and Rickey had been appointed to study the Negro problem.

"He ducked the issue, and never submitted any recommendations of any kind to either major league," MacPhail said. "Rickey's conscience apparently was not bothering him then."

MacPhail said he conferred with Negro baseball men and educators, sent a report to the leagues and the press, recommending:

"That the major leagues take action to strengthen the Negro leagues; that the Negro leagues be required to put their house in order and then be admitted to Organized Baseball; that Negro players of character and ability be selected from the Negro leagues by such clubs as desired to select them under a system similar to the minor league draft . . ."

Rickey's Way of Helping.

The report was published, MacPhail said, before Rickey signed Robinson "to a contract calling for less money than Robinson made in the Negro leagues."

MacPhail said that even then Rickey had scouts hunting for Negro talent.

"In spite of the fact that he had accepted an appointment by the major leagues to study this problem and report his findings, he double-crossed his associates for his own personal advantage, raided the Negro leagues, and took players without adequately compensating them for the players he took.

"Rickey was not kidding anyone in baseball with all that bunk about his conscience then."

MacPhail said the matter of Negro participation in major and minor league ball still was a problem, but could be solved with honest co-operation.

Apprised of the ex-Yankee president's statement, Rickey at first declined comment. Later he said, through Harold Parrott, Dodger road secretary:

"No statement in the Wilberforce address or the press release at the Dodger-Argosy luncheon has been denied in whole or in part by these typically MacPhalian distortions, untruths and inventions.

"They are unworthy of further comment."

"Misinterpreted," Says Branch.

On Wednesday, two days after his Ohio speech, Rickey told baseball writers at a New York luncheon his remarks had produced "interpretations not intended and certainly not foreseen."

He said the committee report covered around 20 pages, and the Negro reference not more than half a page. Rickey said that any club official who said he didn't remember any such reference "is to be fully believed" because "I can understand that other people would not attribute the same importance to the subject that I did."

"It is true," he said, "there is no discrimination in baseball because of race, color or creed. This policy has been justified by the conduct of baseball during the last three years."

Others declining to comment included Walter Mulbry, secretary to Chandler; Warren Giles, Cincinnati Reds' president; and Sam Breadon, former St. Louis Cardinals' owner.

"Let Rickey and MacPhail do their own feuding and fighting," Giles said.

"I'm out of baseball now, and I think I'll stay out of it," said Breadon, who was a member of the joint policy committee which drafted the controversial report.

Feudin' and Fussin.'

Rickey and MacPhail were involved in a heated dispute a year ago that finally resulted in the suspension of Leo Durocher, Dodger manager, for the 1947 season.

MacPhail charged Rickey and Durocher with conduct detrimental to baseball and demanded action by Commissioner Chandler at a Sarasota, Fla., hearing. MacPhail said Rickey and other Brooklyn officials insinuated that he had two known gamblers as his guests at a Havana exhibition game between the Brooks and Yanks.

After several hearings, Chandler on April 9 suspended Durocher, fined Brooklyn and New York each $2000, and Dodge secretary Parrott $500. Coach Chuck Dressen of the Yanks also was suspended for 30 days.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)

TOM BAIRD, owner of the Kansas City Monarchs Negro team, said MacPhail was correct when he declared Rickey took players from Negro leagues without adequate compensation.

"We never got a dime for Robinson from Rickey," Baird said, "and he has refused to answer any of the letters we wrote asking about a settlement.

"We thought Jorge Pasquel of the Mexican League was a menace to our Negro leagues, but he showed more honor than Rickey in taking our players. He told the world he was doing it."

Flyers Tangle With Bisons in Match Tonight

By Harold Flachsbart

The Flyers will try to extend their latest winning streak to three victories and a tie in four starts when they conclude a five-game home stand tonight, meeting the Buffalo Bisons at The Arena at 8:15. The same clubs will play again at Buffalo tomorrow.

Since all but blowing their playoff chances with a four-game losing streak a few weeks ago, Ebbie Goodfellow's men have defeated Springfield and Indianapolis and tied Hershey with a crippled battlefront. Still missing tonight will be Norm Tustin, right wing, and Vic Grigg, defenseman.

Buffalo, a club that had been riding in second place in the Western standings through much of the American Hockey League campaign, recently dropped to third behind the Cleveland Barons. The Bisons still are one of the toughest clubs in the circuit, however.

All six previous Buffalo-St. Louis meetings have been closely contested, with the Flyers winning two of the contests here on their home ice while losing one. At Buffalo there was one tie and two St. Louis reverses.

The standings:

EASTERN DIVISION.	W.	L.	T.	Pts.	G.	O.G.
Providence	34	19	3	71	262	213

Fatal Knockout at Chicago Stadium

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

SAM BAROUDI of New York toppling backward as he is knocked out in the tenth round by EZZARD CHARLES of Cincinnati. Charles had poured heavy punches to his opponent's head. Baroudi was carried unconscious from the ring and died six hours later in a Chicago hospital.

Ezzard Charles's Opponent Dies Following 10th-Round Knockout; Cerebral Hemorrhage the Cause

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (UP)—Ezzard Charles, whose knockout blows resulted in the death of Sam Baroudi a few hours after their light-heavyweight fight, testified at an inquest today that his opponent showed no signs of weakness before he collapsed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Sam Baroudi, 20, New York and Akron, light-heavyweight boxer, died in Columbus Hospital today, six hours after he was knocked out by Ezzard Charles in the tenth and last round of their bout in Chicago Stadium last night. He died without regaining consciousness.

Physicians had diagnosed his injury as a cerebral hemorrhage but decided against immediate surgery. He had been taken to the hospital after firemen had failed to revive him in his dressing room.

The young boxer, who had engaged in 46 professional fights, was knocked out for the first time last night when he went to the canvas under the withering attack of Charles, who is ranked as the leading challenger to the 175-pound title.

11,000 Witness Show.

Charles dealt out severe punishment to the New York Negro in the final round of their bout in Chicago Stadium, which drew a crowd of more than 11,000. Receipts totaled $50,464. After smashing several blows to the body, Charles, Cincinnati Negro who outweighed Baroudi 176 to 169, ripped a left to the chin, sending Baroudi to the canvas near the edge of the ring.

Earlier, Warren avenue police had advised Charles to remain in Chicago pending outcome of Baroudi's injuries.

Mike Spinelli, Baroudi's manager, disappeared when he learned of his fighter's death. Spinelli's 19-year-old son, Frank, said his father called their hotel room, reported Baroudi's death, and said "I'm leaving town."

It was revealed that Baroudi was himself engaged in a fatal fight with another Negro boxer, Glenn Newton Smith, 23, at North Adams, Mass., Aug. 15, 1947. Smith was knocked out in the ninth round and never regained consciousness. Baroudi was exonerated.

Baroudi, a former prep athletic star at Akron (O.) Central High School, won the right to meet Charles in a headline stadium bout by defeating Bob Satterfield of East St. Louis, Ill., in the stadium last month. His record showed 40 victories in 46 professional bouts, 23 by knockouts. He started his pro ring career after a successful string of victories as an amateur, including winning the Golden Gloves title in Cleveland in 1945.

In last night's bout, the 26-year-old Charles kept on top of Baroudi most of the time. He inflicted punishment with body blows and kept his youthful opponent at a safe range.

Shortly after the tenth round started Charles drew Baroudi into position for the knockout. He shot effective blows to the body before crossing a left to the chin which knocked Baroudi sprawling on his back 47 seconds after the round opened. He was carried unconscious from the ring on a stretcher and an inhalator squad from a nearby fire department was summoned. Firemen, however, failed to revive him and he was taken to the Columbus hospital.

First Fatality of Year.

Baroudi's death was the first this year from ring injuries, although only last week the life of Eddie Franklin, a Philadelphia heavyweight, was saved by an operation for removal of a clot on the brain following his knockout by Bill (Chicken) Thompson.

El Mono Wins, Big Names Fail In 'Widener'

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 21 (AP)—Daniel Lamont's El Mono won the $50,000 added Widner Handicap at Hialeah today. E. E. Voynow's Stud Poker was second and Bermil Farm's Bug Juice third. Assault and Armed were out of the money.

El Mono refunded its backers $32.40 for $2 in the mutuels. Stud Poker paid $35.90 to place and Bug Juice $12.50 to show.

Potsy Clark New Nebraska Coach

Peggy Kirk, Berghaus Win Foursome Title

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21 (UP)—Peggy Kirk of Findlay, O., and Ted Berghaus of Palm Beach today reigned as champions of the thirteenth annual mixed foursome golf tournament.

Taking the lead on the second hole, the winning duo easily brushed past Mrs. T. E. Schluderberg of Batlimore and W. A. Pagan of Palm Beach, 4 and 3, in the final round yesterday at the Everglades Club.

Miss Kirk and Berghaus started the back nine one hole ahead, then nabbed the tenth, thirteenth and fourteenth holes, and closed out the match by halving the fifteenth.

Italian Wins Title.

Drab Show as Hickey Plays It Safe; Billikens Shoot for No. 19 Tonight

By Robert Morrison

When Wild Bill Wiley, whose heart is in the right place but whose feet are always dashing off some place where the rest of him can't follow, went into the St. Louis U.-Creighton game last night, the situation obviously was well in hand.

It had to be. Wild Bill never goes in until the game is so safe that nothing he can do will make it otherwise. He's one of those boys who works all year for nothing much but a place on the bench when the Billikens are home.

You may not have noticed him before and may never again, but Wild Bill was in the Creighton game for a whole minute last night, a symbol of Coach Eddie Hickey's campaign strategy. Wiley and the rest of the third-stringers played out the last five minutes or so—some more, some less. And the Billikens took a low-score 40-27 victory from the Bluejays. Second-stringers also put in more time than usual.

Fearful of Injuries.

Hickey was almost apologetic. "Maybe I should have left the regulars in to run up the score a bit. I know it wasn't much of a show for the public, but I didn't want to take a chance on possible injuries."

With four more games and a possible bid to a post-season tournament coming up, the idea seemed reasonable. The Billikens now have won 18 of 20 games. Remaining on the schedule are Drake, a Missouri Valley Conference foe to be played tonight at Kiel Auditorium, DePaul at Chicago, and Wichita and Tulsa here.

Drake, beaten the worst of any Billiken opponent this season except for Arkansas State, may give St. Louis a better game this time. At least Hickey thinks so. "Drake had an off night at Des Moines," the coach said. The Bills were 63-34 victors there.

Creighton almost duplicated its earlier game with St. Louis. The 15-11 score at the half was identical to the half-way mark at Omaha. Don (Pinky) Knowles was up to his old tricks of holding the ball and his teammates were indoctrinated likewise.

At the outset Knowles intercepted a Billiken pass and dribbled the length of the court for a set-up. It required the next nine minutes of the game for the Billikens to get out of the mud and gain a 6-5 lead.

Pinky, one of Hickey's boys at Creighton before the coach came to St. Louis, consumed two minutes at the start of the game in slow-motion, flat-footed artistry, standing, cogitating and ruminating perhaps about how time flies.

What with officials tooting penalty whistles fairly often, it was a sticky game. Danny Miller finally broke the field goal ice for St. Louis at 9:40 with a flip from the side. Ed Macauley tipped in another at 11:50 and John Cordia got a third at 18:00. That was all of the St. Louis scoring from the floor in the first half.

Good When They Had to Be.

The Billikens, however, got down to business in the second half, gained a 10-point lead in four minutes and a 17-point lead in nine minutes. After Joe Ossola and D. C. Wilcutt got their scoring licks early in the period, Lou Lehman and Marv Schatzmann added a couple of slick baskets to make it 30-13.

Creighton, finding nothing left but to run it out, tried to match speed with the Bills and made no headway in the scoring. And then Wild Bill and his chums came in to finish the job which they accomplished without scoring a field goal in the last six minutes.

Looking on, among the crowd of 3926 in the St. Louis gymnasium, were members of the Bombers, the New York Knickerbockers, Centenary College's team, and Washington U. coaches. Don't worry, boys. That style of play isn't catching.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 21 (UP)—The dispute-ridden New Orleans Open golf tournament moved into the third round today with Fred Haas Jr. of New Orleans, leading with 134, while a number of golfers openly feuded with P.G.A. tournament director George Schneiter.

Haas, banging out his second four-under-par 67, moved blithely ahead in scoring, but behind him a controversy flared as to whether or not his clubs were legal.

Locke, runner-up to Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., for top-money-winning honors among the pros last season, claimed that pros Glenn Teal of Jacnsonville, Fla., and Jackson Bradley of St. Charles, Ill., as well as many others, thought Haas was using illegal clubs—too deeply cut.

Schneiter said that he, too, had examined Haas' weapons and found them legal, and he asked Locke if he wanted to have Haas disqualified.

"You're the one to decide that," retorted Locke, "but in my book, Haas is disqualified because his clubs are illegal. It's not his fault; it's your fault."

Locke added however, that he would not make an official protest.

Most of the other pros who complained about Haas' clubs refused to criticize the New Orleans ace personally and joined with Locke in blaming Schneiter. They felt that Haas, who is very popular with his fellow pros, did not deserve to be the "goat" of the tournament.

Haas, meanwhile, continued to blaze his way over the Metairie course he has played for so many years that he knows all its tricks by heart. Closest to him were Bob Hamilton of Reynolds, Ky., and Norman Von Nida of Australia, each with 139.

Seven strokes behind Haas came Frank Champ of Lake Charles, La., Locke, John Palmer of Badin, N. C., Gib Sellers of Hot Springs, Ark., Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, each with 141.

Ritenour Leads State Wrestling

BOONVILLE, Mo., Feb. 21—Schools of the St. Louis area carried strong hands into the semifinal and finals of the Missouri interscholastic wrestling championships here today. Ritenour, with nine victories and only two losses, heads the long list. Other team standings in matches won and lost after the first day's competition of 46 matches included:

Normandy, 9-4; Kirkwood, 7-3; Maplewood, 5-5; Webster, 5-8; Kemper, 4-6; Missouri M. A., 3-7; University City, 2-7. Soldan wrestlers won one match and Ferguson one.

Major Daley Allison is managing the tournament which is sponsored by the Missouri High School Athletic Association. Kemper Military Academy is the host.

Bears Hope to Give Creighton A Second Jolt

In position to profit by the object lesson given at the West Pine gymnasium last night, the Washington University basketball Bears will try tonight to snatch a Missouri Valley Conference victory from the Creighton U. Blue Jays. This game will be played at the Bears' Field House, starting at 8:15 p.m.

Since Washington has not established itself as a high-scoring team this season and Creighton deliberately relys upon defensive tactics to win, tonight's game is not likely to develop many of the thrills of "fire-wagon" attack. They met at Omaha some weeks ago and the final result was 29 to 25 in Creighton's favor. Since that time Washington has shown flashes of improved play, highlighted by a 63 to 42 victory over Centenary College this week. The showing a week ago against Bradley (59 to 45) might also be taken as an indication of new strength for Bradley is rated one of the country's best.

Coach Blair Gullion's chief task tonight will be to draw the strong Creighton defense away from the marked man, Stan London. If that works the Bears stand a good chance of winning.

Riggs Defeats Kramer In Three Set Match

STOCKTON, Calif., Feb. 21 (AP)—Bobby Riggs, displaying a strong net game, came from behind to defeat Jack Kramer, 5-7, 6-2, 8-6, last night in the thirty-third match of their professional tennis tour. The victory was Riggs's first in the last four. Kramer continued to hold an edge, 18 matches to 15.

Dinny Pails, Australia, defeated Jack Jossi, Oakland, 6-3, 6-3. In doubles, Kramer and Jossi took the first set 6-3 and Riggs and Pails the second 8-6.

Collinsville Gains 20th Win in Row

Championships were decided last night in three district high school leagues, while in another four quintets were thrown into a tie for first place.

McBride, beating St. Louis U. High, 47-42, finished with a 9-1 record to grab the Prep League title. The Junior Billikens had a 7-3 mark in league play.

Collinsville gained its twentieth consecutive victory of the season, overcoming a 10-point deficit to defeat Edwardsville, 49-46. It gave the Kahoks their third Southwestern Illinois Conference championship.

The third title went to Vashon, which won the Ill-Mo League honors with 59-45 victory over Douglass.

Following last night's play, Maplewood, Kirkwood, St. Charles and University City were in a tie for the Suburban lead with 7-2 records. St. Charles upset Maplewood, 35-34, while University City won from Normandy, 56-32.

John Burroughs handed Western M. A. its first ABC League defeat, winning, 42-34, while Riverview Gardens gained its tenth straight North County victory, drubbing Berkeley, 47-35.

3 Soccer Cup Games On Tomorrow's Schedule

Regardless of weather conditions, three national championship soccer games scheduled for tomorrow will be played, Walter Geisler, local representative of the U.S.S.F.A., announced today. The local final of the National Junior Cup Competition, between SS. Mary and Joseph and the St. Edward teams will be played at Grounds 2, Fairgrounds Park, starting at 1 p.m.

At Sportsman's Park, the Mulhauser club of Dallas, Texas, will oppose the Steamfitters club of St. Louis in a National Amateur Cup match, starting at 12:30 p.m. This game will be followed by a National Open Cup contest in which Southern Equipment club of the Municipal League opposes the Simpkins Motors of the St. Louis professional league.

Southwestern Loop to Name Commissioner

The two-day session actually is a reconvening of the annual December meeting which recessed in Biloxi, Miss., pending action by the N.C.A.A. in its January session.

(1) Taking a stand on the N.C.A.A.'s new "sanity" code with particular emphasis on providing financial aid for athletes.

(2) Selecting a commissioner to succeed Mike Conner, who resigned last year because of ill health after serving as the league's first czar since September 1940.

(3) Taking a stand on the question of committing the conference football champion to play in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans each year.

Beaumont Tops Swim Qualifiers

Beaumont High, well established as a leader in several interscholastic sports fields, is a heavy favorite to take the District Association's annual invitation swimming championship. Entering the finals at Wilson Pool, Washington University this afternoon, the Fairground Park school will have more qualifiers than any other team.

The District Association includes schools outside the Public Schools League but only Principia Academy and St. Louis U. High accepted the invitation to send representatives.

Qualifiers:

200-YARD FREE STYLE RELAY—Best time by Beaumont (Zoeller, Hebberger, Holzgrove, Ray). St. Louis U. High, Cleveland, Roosevelt, Central, Principia. Alternate — McKinley. Best time — 1:54.9.

Reiser Comes in At a Salary of About $20,000

BROOKLYN, Feb. 21 (UP)—Pete Reiser, the Brooklyn Dodgers' powerful but fragile outfielder, had signed for 1948 today, thus ending what promised to be the club's most prolonged holdout session.

Salary that proved agreeable, to Reiser, who threatened to "hold out until May 1 unless I get a better contract," were not revealed, but it was believed that the St. Louisan received an increase that put him at or near the $20,000 figure.

Also announced as signed by the Dodger office were Outfielder Don Lund and First Baseman Preston Ward, both rookies.

Bevens's contract was preceded by a telegraphed acceptance from rookie third baseman Jerry Coleman, who batted .278 for Kansas City of the American Association last year.

Bad News for Cardinals.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Pitcher Johnny Schmitz, who last year had a 13-18 record and the club's best earned run average, has signed his contract with the Chicago Cubs. The southpaw tosser said at his Wausau (Wis.) home that the Cubs gave him "a pretty good raise."

DETROIT, Feb. 21 (AP)—Art Houtteman, promising 20-year-old right-hand pitcher who won seven games and lost two for the Detroit Tigers last season, became the Tigers' twenty-ninth player to sign his 1948 contract.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21 (AP)—A new 1948 contract which Phils' President Bob Carpenter said shoulud be very satisfactory was en route today to Shortstop Eddie Miller.

Carpenter did not disclose the terms of the contract offered Miller, who was obtained recently from Cincinnati in a trade for Outfielder Johnny Wyrostek.

STOCKS SLOWEST FOR SATURDAY IN 4 YEARS

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP3—In one of the slowest Saturday sessions in nearly four years, the stock market made some selective progress today, although many leaders faltered.

There was a little further short covering for the lengthy week-end. Major markets will recess Monday in observance of Washington's birthday. Customers, on the whole, gave Wall Street a wide berth and boardrooms were virtually deserted.

Those who appeared still maintained a cautious attitude. There was a certain amount of nibbling for a technical comeback. Accounts were trimmed by those still skeptical regarding economic situations at home and abroad, taxes, labor and commodity fluctuations.

Dealings frequently were at a standstill after the opening. There were isolated gainers of a point or so but fractional irregularity persisted near the close.

Atlantic Gulf & West Indies pushed up to a 1947-48 high. Favored the greater part of the time were American Can, Youngstown Sheet, Rock Island, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Plymouth Oil.

Mild resistance in the curb was shown by Cities Service, Creole Petroleum and Pantepec. Backward now and then were Aluminum of America, Kaiser-Frazer, Solar Aircraft and Lone Star Gas.

WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY HOLIDAY FOR EXCHANGES

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Security and commodity exchanges throughout the United States will be closed Monday, Feb. 23 in observance of Washington's birthday. Various livestock reports will be issued as usual by the Department of Agriculture. Winnipeg grain markets will operate as usual.

The St. Louis Stock Exchange and Merchants Exchange will be closed. It is a legal banking holiday in Missouri.

Dr. Pepper Nets $1.49 a Share.

Dr. Pepper Co. reported 1947 net income of $1,046,308, equivalent to $1.49 a share, against $1.88 in preceding year. Sales were up 13 per cent, but cost of business reduced earnings, it was stated.

Southern Pacific Dividend.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP) — The bond market reached for higher levels in today's brief session.

Gains of fractions generally and in some cases a point or so were in the majority at times as investment dealers and others interested in bonds prepared to close out an uneventful week and knock off till next Tuesday.

A smart rally of about two points in Third Avenue Railway Adjustment 5s at one time was a feature of trading. The bonds had been under pressure earlier in the week.

Lagging were American Tobacco 3s, Katy First 4s, Missouri Pacific 5s and New Orleans Terminal 4s.

United States Governments were not traded and there was little change in foreign dollar bonds.

CATTLE PRICES UP FOR WEEK WITH HOG MARKET DOWN

ST. LOUIS LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE, Feb. 21—Hog receipts, 1000; market steady to 25c lower, with the decline on hogs of 180 to 230 lbs.; hog top, $23.50; packing sows top, $18.50; pig top, $22.75.

Sharply decreased supplies of cattle closed substantially higher in price at weekend Friday after early fluctuations. Steers finished strong to 50c higher, heifers and mixed yearlings 50c to $1.50 higher with weights under 800 lbs carrying the maximum upturn. Cows closed $1@1.50 or more above the previous Friday while bulls finished 50c lower. Good and choice vealers finished $2 higher, lower grades steady to $1 up. Choice 1326 and 1052 lb steers topped at $29.50, most top good and choice steers $27@28 and low and average good steers $25@26.50, while medium to low good went from $22@24. High good 718-lb mixed steers and heifers scored $27.50, with six head of choice 791-lb at $28. Good 802-lb heifers topped at $26.50. Most good heifers and mixed yearlings claimed $24@26.50, medium $19.50@23 and common $16.50@18. Good cows sold largely around $20@21, odd head $22 with common and medium beef cows $17@19, canners and cutters $14@17, although light shells dropped downward in the $13 column early in the week. Good beef bulls held at $22 with medium and good sausage bulls $19@21.50, cutter and common $16@18. Top on choice vealers was $31, most good and choice for the week $24@30, common and medium $15@23 and culls $9@12. Business in replacement steers was negligible.

Hog prices broke under increased receipts and weights under 225 lbs finished 25c to 50c lower for the Friday-to-Friday period, heavier weights 75c to $1.50 lower and sows 50c to 75c lower. Top prices ranged from a practical top of $23.75 Friday to $24.75 on Monday. Bulk of 180 to 270 lbs for the week sold at $22@24.25, 270 to 350 lbs $19.25@23.25, 130 to 150 lbs $19@22.75, 100 to 120 lbs $13.50@18.75 and sows $17.25@19.25.

After early 50@75c advances, fat lambs finished 25c net lower on Friday to Friday; week's top $23.75 Tuesday; late top wooled lambs $22.75, although choice nominally quotable to $23; most wooled lambs for week brought $22.25@23.75; several lots fall shorn lambs, $21.75@23.25; aged sheep firm; bulk fat ewes, $11@11.50; sorted good and choice ewes quotable at $12.50.

COTTON OFF 65C TO 40C UP

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Cotton futures moved narrowly today in quiet dealings.

Prices started lower under commission house and New Orleans selling along with some March liquidation, prior to first notice day on Tuesday. Subsequently, however, a reappearance of trade buying imparted a steady undertone, particularly in nearby positions.

Part of the demand was said to be for mill account, along with covering against recent export sales to Germany and the Far East.

WHEAT LEADS GRAIN ADVANCE; SHORTS BUY

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—After a slow start, grains rallied on the Board of Trade today. Wheat led the advance which carried the bread cereal several cents above the preceding close.

There was no news development to account for the late buying. Brokers said it was mostly short-covering prior to the long weekend closing. The market will not be open Monday, Washington's birthday.

Private cables from Europe said weather was very cold. Little fear of crop damage was expressed, however, because moderate to heavy snow has fallen to protect the crops.

Wheat closed 2½ to 3 cents higher, May $2.35¾@2.36, corn was 1¼@2½c higher, May $2.11¾@2.12, oats were ⅝@1½c higher, May $1.05⅝@1.05¾, and soybeans were ½c lower to ½c higher, March $3.32½.

Cash Corn Is Lower.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Feb. 21—Cash grain market Saturday: Corn receipts 23 cars, three sold, ¼@1c lower. Yellow No. 3, $2.17¼; No. 4 $2.12@2.14½. Wheat receipts 27 cars, none sold. Oats, two cars, none sold.

ANTI-NEGRO GROUP'S AIMS CALLED 'LAWFUL, PEACEFUL'

Members of the newly formed Natural Bridge Civic Association, organized to oppose the development of a Negro subdivision at 9000 Natural Bridge road, were informed last night that the group's aims were "lawful and peaceful." A meeting was held in the Carsonville Fire Department, 8740 Natural Bridge road.

Robert I. Neuman, an attorney retained by the association, and Harvey Pilsing, president, stressed the peaceful purposes of the organization and Neuman added that no member could expect association protection in any act of violence. About 200 residents of Carsonville joined the association last night after paying $1 initiation fees.

Following the first meeting of the new association last week, Albert L. Shaw, who proposed developing the subdivision for Negroes, reported a drinking glass was thrown through a window of his home at 9000 Natural Bridge road. Shaw's home is on a 4-acre tract, which he would use for the subdivision.

AIMS PISTOL AT OFFICERS; WRONG MEN, SO HE GIVES UP

Police Corporal Walter Kyle and Patrolman Edward Graneman found themselves looking down the business end of a revolver last night as they pulled up beside a streetcar safety zone at the intersection of Chouteau and Mississippi avenues. The weapon was in the hands of a Negro who was standing in the zone.

When Kyle and Graneman alighted from their police automobile the man threw up his hands and surrendered, saying he thought they were members of a Negro juvenile gang, named the "cats," and were intending to rob him.

He said he was Isadore Slack, and gave an address in the 2600 block of Gamble avenue. He was charged in a warrant with carrying a concealed weapon.

ALDERMEN REVIEW PUBLIC STREET LAW FOR BENTON PLACE

Residents Differ on Whether It Should Become Private Again.

The difference of opinion between the old and the new residents of historic Benton place, opposite Lafayette Park, was reviewed yesterday for the second time within a year by the aldermanic committee on streets and sewers.

The issue before the committee is a bill to repeal an ordinance enacted a year ago making Benton place a public street. For 61 years it had been a private subdivision.

The committee heard the newer residents maintain that they wanted public ownership of the street because the trustees of Benton place had failed to keep the street in repair or to provide adequate street lighting at night.

The older residents said the trustees would be able to provide these things if the newer residents would pay their subdivision assessments. One of these, John Gaffney, member of the Board of Trustees, charged that the new residents "want a free ride." The committee took the matter under advisement.

$5 FINE STAYED FOR DRIVER BEATEN BY OFFICER IN ARREST

Vincent Litteken, 4140 Nebraska avenue, was fined $5 in police court today on a charge of resisting arrest but the fine was stayed on a condition of good behavior.

Patrolman Louis George testified he followed Litteken, who was operating a truck, as he was driving at 45 miles an hour and weaving south along Twelfth street from Clark avenue. He said Litteken stopped the truck in the 2800-block of McNair avenue and when he attempted to arrest him, Litteken struck him, knocking him to the ground. George said: "I then used the necessary force to subdue him and beat him over the head with my pistol."

Litteken denied the charges, saying he stopped his truck when his wife, who was riding with him, told him a police automobile was behind them. Litteken said he was pulled from the truck by George who then began to beat him. He was arrested last Wednesday.

PCA CONSIDERS CANDIDATE TO OPPOSE MELVIN PRICE

East St. Louis members of the Progressive Citizens of America are considering running a candidate for Congress for the seat now held by Melvin Price, only Democratic member of the United States House of Representatives from southern Illinois, it was announced today.

A statement issued by the organization charged that Price "has given evidence of a steady retreat from the New Deal policies of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. He has gone so far as to encourage hysterical Red-baiting.

"We of the PCA are determined that the people of the Twenty-fifth District will have a choice between progress and reaction, between peace and war, between prosperity and depression, in short, a choice between the New Deal policies of Franklin Delano Roosevelt and the Wall Street imperialist policy of Harry Truman."

TAXPAYER GROUP AUTHORIZES SUIT TO BAR CIGARETTE LEVY

A resolution authorizing a suit to enjoin the city from collecting the 3-cent-a-package cigarette tax was adopted last night at a meeting of the American Taxpayers' Association at the Carpenter Branch Library, Grand boulevard and Utah place. Also authorized was the preparation of an initiative petition seeking removal of tolls on MacArthur Bridge, J. J. Noser, president said.

The association has proposed abolition of all real estate and tangible personal property taxes in return for a tax on gross business and professional incomes and on payrolls. Noser said he had asked Senator George P. Utter to introduce a bill to this effect in the General Assembly at an early date.

DRIVER IN CRASH FINED $200, GETS 15 DAYS IN WORKHOUSE

Jimmie Clark, Negro, 8742 Rose avenue, Brentwood, was fined $200 and sentenced to 15 days in the city workhouse yesterday by Police Judge George J. Grellner when Clark was found guilty of careless driving.

Joseph Janca, 5 Price court, Ladue, testified that an automobile driven by Clark on the wrong side of the street struck his machine last Oct. 29 at Chouteau avenue and the Express Highway.

The case was transferred to Judge Grellner's court after Police Judge Joseph B. Catanzaro objected to attempts by Clark's attorney, Alvin Hackman, to "browbeat" Janca on the witness stand, Thursday.

DRIVE FOR MILLION FOR MORE STUDY ON FAIR TO START

'Risk Capital' to Explore Idea Sought by New Body Headed by Stratford Lee Morton.

A campaign to raise $1,000,000 in "risk capital" to finance further studies as to feasibility of a World's Fair in St. Louis in 1953 will begin immediatey, Stratford Lee Morton, general chairman of the World's Fair Organization Committee, announced today.

The committee was formed yesterday as permanent successor to the World's Fair for 1953 Committee. also headed by Morton, which had conducted preliminary studies on the fair proposal. Plans for the campaign and permanent organization were approved by a citizens's advisory committee Feb. 5.

Vice chairmen of the organization committee are Gale F. Johnston, president, Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co.; David R. Calhoun, president, St. Louis Union Trust Co.; James P. Hickok, president, Manufacturers' Bank & Trust Co.; Armstrong Chinn, president, Terminal Railroad, and Howard F. Baer, president, A. S. Aloe Co.; William Zalken, public relations counselor, was named committee secretary at yesterday's meeting, and John Raeburn Green, attorney, was named counsel.

Morton said about 23,000 organizations, firms and individuals would be solicited by letter to participate in $1000 "founder memberships," of which only $200 could be called for in 1948. He emphasized that no decision had yet been made to hold a fair to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Louisiana Purchase, and said the money would be used only for further exploration of the idea.

Also formed at the organization meeting were 18 campaign divisions, for solicitation of various branches of industry and trade; a public relations committee, headed by Alfred Fleishman; a speakers' committee, headed by Richmond C. Coburn, and an advisory council, whose membership will consist of governors of Louisiana Purchase and other states and other leaders in government, education, science, culture and social welfare.

Morton said the new committee discussed a possible tie-in of the proposed World's Fair with development of the Jefferson National Expansion riverfront memorial, a design for which has been selected by memorial sponsors.

No conclusion was reached, but it was decided to explore possibility of use of an East Side area, across the river from the memorial, as part of the World's Fair site. This was proposed by Eero Saarinen, head of the group whose design won the $40,000 first prize in the memorial competition.

FINED $25 OVER DISTURBANCE

Chester Brown, 1423 (rear) Mallinckrodt avenue, was fined $25 today by Police Judge George J. Grellner after he was found guilty of individual peace disturbance. He was arrested yesterday on complaint of William Bridegroom, a foreman at the Landis Machine Co., 411 East Gano avenue.

Bridegroom testified he found Brown loafing on the job at the factory and told him to do some work, whereupon Brown struck him, knocking him to the floor. Brown admitted hitting Bridegroom. Brown was placed on probation by Judge Grellner.

AIRPORT COMMISSION FOR SUBSTITUTE BILL

Proposed Measure Eliminates Jail Penalty Provision for Officials.

A proposed substitute for a pending measure to establish an official five-man Municipal Aviation Commission with control over all airport matters was approved yesterday by the Municipal Airport Commission.

The bill which would establish the official body is pending in the State Senate, where it has met with considerable objection because of a provision which would permit imposition of jail sentences on city officials and members of the Board of Aldermen who would refuse to approve appropriations for the commission.

The substitute will be presented to the Senate Committee on Municipal Corporations, with the request that it be proposed as a committee substitute for the original. It eliminates the penalty provision and meets several other objections including the one raised by Comptroller Louis Nolte that the bill placed too much authority in the hands of persons not directly responsible to the people.

The substitute would require Board of Aldermen approval for the Mayor's appointments of members of the proposed commission and would require airport bonds to be issued, sold and retired in accordance with present laws, ordinances and City Charter. The original bill gave the commission full authority over these matters and did not require aldermanic approval of the appointments.

The substitute requires also that the commission make annual reports as the Mayor and Comptroller require.

Despite the changes, Deputy Comptroller Ray C. Schroeder, representing Nolte, voted against it, and President Charles E. Albanese of the Board of Aldermen refrained from voting. Albanese and Nolte represent a majority of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, the city's fiscal authority. The other member is the Mayor. Nolte offered a resolution yesterday which requested the board to direct the City Counselor to oppose the original and the substitute. Action was deferred until next week.

30-YEAR-OLD ROW ON PALESTINE PUTS U.S. ON THE SPOT

security, it could be rejected by the single veto of either the United States, the United Kingdom, the Soviet Union, China or France. It is not generally understood that a veto equally decisive could be administered by concurring ballots of five of the six non-permanent members. Only one hostile vote, that of Syria, is certain. The other members of this group are Belgium, Colombia, Argentina, Canada and the Soviet Ukraine.

Dr. Weizmann's Invention.

The basic legal case of the Jews today stems from an invention with which Dr. Weizmann revolutionized the manufacture of an explosive known as cordite. A Russian Jew, he became a lecturer on chemistry at the University of Manchester and president of the English Zionist Federation.

One of the ingredients of cordite is a solvent called acetone. It was extracted from wood by a process requiring large volumes of expensive timber. Weizmann found a way to ferment acetone from starch, one of the cheapest and most plentiful materials. At the outset of World War I, he was employed by the British Admiralty, of which Arthur J. Balfour was First Lord, to supervise the production of acetone and another cordite component, butyl alcohol, which he had also learned to obtain from starch.

Balfour became Foreign Secretary at the end of 1916. Weizmann took advantage of his personal relations with Balfour and his prestige as breaker of the cordite log-jam to open negotiations with the Foreign Office. He demanded that the creation of a national Jewish home in Palestine should be announced as a policy of the British Government. The project gained a formidable champion in President Wilson.

The Balfour Declaration.

The result was the famous Balfour Declaration of Nov. 12, 1917, the first section of which declared that "His Majesty's Government view with favor the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavors to facilitate the achievement of this object."

But the Foreign Office had another element to contend with. This was the British Army, which stood solidly behind promises made by Lawrence as organizer and leader of the Arab revolt against the Turks. So, by a typical compromise, a rider was attached in the words, "it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine."

There was recognition almost from the first that the two sections of the declaration were mutually destructive. Weizmann sought in vain to correct its ambiguity by having the first clause changed so as to read: "His Majesty's Government view with favor the reconstruction of Palestine as the national home of the Jewish people."

Winston Churchill, then Colonial Secretary, felt obliged to explain publicly that "the terms of the declaration do not contemplate that Palestine as a whole should be converted into a Jewish national home, but that such a home should be founded in Palestine."

Lawrence's View.

Lawrence, on his side, figuratively broke his sword in disgust over what he regarded as the perfidy of his own Government, and in remorse at having misled his Arab allies. He resigned as an army officer, returned his decorations, changed his name by deed poll to Shaw and enlisted as a mechanic in the Royal Air Force. He was killed in a motorcycle accident in 1935.

But the Balfour Declaration proceeded merrily on its way. It was indorsed by France, Italy and then the United States, through unanimous vote in both houses of Congress; and confirmed by a mandate over Palestine which the League of Nations, on July 24, 1922, granted to England.

Neither side was contented. As was shown by Weizmann's proposed alteration of the text, the Zionists wanted all of Palestine. At any rate, they had no intention of submitting to rule by the Arab majority. The Arabs, who had controlled Palestine for 1500 years, were as outraged as New Yorkers would be if the Dutch re-invaded Manhattan, set up their own armed militia and laid claim to the borough on the ground of prior occupation.

The Balfour Declaration and mandate were so phrased that only a pro-Jewish or a pro-Arab solution was possible. The recommendation for partition, which was made by the majority report of the United Nations Special Committee on Palestine, was frankly pro-Jewish, and was accepted as such by Zionist chieftains.

Minority View Pro-Arab.

The minority report, proposing a federal system, was as frankly pro-Arab. It made the embarrassing suggestion that the 250,000 Jews now languishing in German displacement camps should be absorbed by countries not overpopulated. The great powers were particularly discomfited by a demand that they institute a democratic regime in Palestine. Under accepted majority control, that would subordinate the Jews to Arab domination.

With an area about that of Maryland, half of which is uninhabitable desert, and a population of nearly 2,000,000, or approximately that of Arkansas, Palestine has contrived to raise a question which might give a death-stroke to the United Nations and decide America's destiny in another world war.

The White House has vacillated on the issue, according to the toughness of pressure exerted on behalf of national security or the fortunes of the Democratic party. There has been a tendency at moments to call down a plague on both houses, Jewish and Arab. The Arabs have been accused of resorting to passion rather than reason, and of employing their petroleum deposits and Russia's menace without scruple to forward their cause.

Resentment has been expressed against Zionist leaders for their alleged obduracy in compelling the free world to stand beside troubled waters in which only the Soviets can fish with profit. They are reminded that a national home in Palestine is not a matter of life and death for the Jewish people, but one of racial and religious pride; and that England's single-handed resistance after the fall of France and America's intervention were prime factors in averting Adolf Hitler's boasted design of exterminating every Jew in Europe.

Whatever the outcome next week at Lake Success, war between the ideas of Dr. Weizmann and Lawrence of Arabia has by no means concluded.

The company stated it did not have enough cash on hand to pay for the busses without depleting its working capital, but could pay 20 per cent, or $331,908. A chattel mortgage would be placed on the new equipment. The banks are the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co., First National Bank, Mississippi Valley Trust Co. and Boatmen's National Bank.

The note is to be paid in 28 equal installments starting Sept. 1. It was specified the interest rate would be 1.75 per cent above the Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate, but not less than 3 per cent and not more than 3½ per cent.

The present funded debt of the company was listed at $10,305,360. This includes $2,274,999 in mortgage bonds held by investors, $1,224,999 in mortgage bonds held by the company, and $6,805,362 in equipment obligations. The application said the company now owned 1204 busses.

Three of the four major public utilities of this city—all but the Laclede Gas Light Co.—now are before the commission in cases involving rates or fares, and valuations for rate making. They are the Public Service Co., Union Electric Co. of Missouri and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

85,000,000 IN U.S. REPORTED TO BE IN MINORITY GROUPS

Although manifestations of racial tension have decreased since the end of the war, a great majority of citizens still are denied economic opportunity, political equality and social dignity because they are members of a racial or religious minority, William Bell, Chicago Negro, a member of the American Council on Race Relations, said last night. He spoke at a race relations service at Temple Israel, Kingshighway and Washington boulevard.

"There are 85,000,000 persons in America who belong to some type of a minority group," he said. "In addition to the Negro and other races, there are 26,000,000 Catholics, 5,500,000 Jews and 2,000,000 Spanish-speaking inhabitants. With the exception of this generation of women, we can consider women when they did not enjoy the privilege of voting a minority group."

The more than 1000 agencies working to improve intergroup relations grew out of fear engendered by the race riots in Detroit in the war, Bell said.

Typhus in Romania.

PARIS, Feb. 21 (AP)—Romania has appealed to a United Nations agency for help in fighting a typhus epidemic. The International Children's Emergency Fund said it had shipped large quantities of material. Fund officials said 2500 new cases are being reported weekly.

The Dollar Availeth Not.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—In these days of dollar-a-pound steaks, $18,000 is not too much for a market to pay an injured customer for damages, the Florida Supreme Court ruled.

"It availeth little, when cotton is 50 cents, corn $2.50, steak $1 and common labor $6, to cite cases that were decided when cotton was 5 cents, corn was 50 cents, steak 25 cents and common labor $1," the court held in its majority opinion.

The tribunal, in a 4-3 decision, upheld a jury's $18,000 award to Mrs. Esther K. Scholl for injuries suffered when she fell in a Fort Lauderdale supermarket.

$10,000 in Ashes.

STERLING, Ill.—A week ago Leroy Shewmaker bought a home in nearby Agnew. He didn't insure it.

The house was destroyed by fire Friday. Shewmaker estimated his loss, including furniture and clothing, at $10,000.

U.S. COLLECTIONS OFF IN MISSOURI IN '47

By a Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 — Internal revenue collections in Missouri in 1947 totaled $1,040,951,145, a decrease of $22,504,863 from those in 1946, the Treasury department reported last night. Collections in 1946 were $1,063,456,008.

Income tax collections in 1947 totaled $785,093,605, a decrease over those of the previous year of $46,410,250. Individual income taxes for 1947 were $491,968,126; corporation income taxes were $293,125,479.

The total collected throughout the nation from all sources in 1947 was $39,420,845,446, an increase of $780,787,586 over the total in 1946.

Total internal revenue collections in Illinois in 1947 were $3,543,998,583, as against $3,355,132,818 in 1946.

GLOBE-DEMOCRAT VOTE FAVORS UNION SHOP NEGOTIATIONS

Employes in the editorial, commercial, classified advertising, circulation and maintenance departments of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat voted, 260 to 73, in a National Labor Relations Board election, to authorize the CIO St. Louis Newspaper Guild to negotiate for continuance of the union shop in its contract with the Globe-Democrat, it was announced today.

Such elections are required under the Taft-Hartley law, which also requires the affirmative vote of a majority of all employes eligible to vote. The election was conducted by Harold B. Norman, field examiner for the NLRB.

EAST ST. LOUIS MIDSHIPMAN TO BE BRITISH EMBASSY GUEST

George H. Sullivan, 14 Hilltop drive, East St. Louis, is one of nine midshipmen from the United States Naval Academy who will be the guests of Lord Inverchapel, British Ambassador, and Lady Inverchapel at a buffet supper at the embassy in Washington tonight.

The Annapolis group entertained the Ambassador at the Naval Academy last Jan. 6, and Lord Inverchapel is returning the favor. Sullivan, who is 21 years old, will be graduated this year. He received his appointment to the academy in 1944. He is a son of Mrs. Celeste Sullivan.

Indignant Henry

Why Not, He Asks, Call Dogs Mutts?

By Henry McLemore

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.

I'LL take a crack at almost anything except going over Niagara Falls in a middy blouse and bloomers, so here I go taking a crack at Collier's magazine.

Of course, I love Collier's dearly and some day hope to sell them a short short story for lots lots of money money. But in the meantime . . .

According to a news bulletin I have received from the Gaines Dog Research Center, Collier's has been given some sort of presentation for its campaign to eliminate the word "mutt" from the American slang vocabulary as ill-fitting and in extreme bad taste when speaking of a dog, no matter what his breeding.

The presentation was made at a breakfast given to the working members of the nation's dog press at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. In the Starlight Bow-Wow Room, I imagine.

MY GUESS is that the offices of Collier's magazine on Park Avenue must be mighty shy of dogs, or that the editors must be shy of dogs at home. To continue the guess, they probably have mice in the Park Avenue offices, and the editors keep squirrels and canaries for pets at home.

I have yet to hear a dog-lover object to the word "mutt" when applied to a dog. But I have heard thousands of dog-lovers speak of their dogs as "mutts." This is true not only of men and women who own dogs of questionable ancestry, but of men and women who own champion show dogs which have names and pedigrees longer than Henry Wallace's third-party chances.

CONFOUND IT, Collier's, "mutt" is a word of endearment, not one of derision. It packs the same affection as the word "bum" when two old friends meet and one says, "Why, you ol' bum, you. Where have you been"? and throws an arm around the other's shoulder.

There's the same warmth in the word "mutt" that there is in the word "monkey" when a husband says to his wife, "Why, you sweet little monkey." He isn't delegating her to the ape family, or telling her that she would look better swinging from a limb than greeting him at the door. He is talking the simple, unaffected language spoken by those who care for someone.

HIGH IN their editorial sanctum, the editors of Collier's may not know it, but boys all over the country have asked for their first dogs by telling Papa and Mama that "right down the street there is the sweetest little ol' mutt that I can have for nothing, and if you'll let me have him, I'll promise to take care of him all by myself. He won't bother you at all. I'll feed him and bathe him, and if he gets sick, I'll nurse him."

Can you imagine a youngster, wanting a dog worse than anything else in the world, telling his parents that he had located a dog of mixed breed that could be had for a nominal price? Maybe Collier's can, but I can't.

Find Inclosed

By Christopher Billop

INCLOSURES are miscellaneous matter such as checks, dollar bills or clippings which people put inside letters, or say they put inside them.

If the inclosures are found inside the letters as stated, all well and good. If they are not found, all is neither well nor good.

Did the sender forget the inclosure? Or has the letter been rifled? If the sender forgot, then he may find the inclosure lying around, put it in another letter and dispatch the letter posthaste. On the other hand, he may not find the inclosure and assume he has sent it.

SHOULD YOU, therefore, wait a day or two to see if the inclosure comes? Or should you write at once to the sender to tell him of his omission? If you write and the inclosure turns up immediately thereafter, then the effort of writing the letter is wasted.

You are, in consequence, tempted to wait a day or two before taking action. If nothing happens on the first day or the second day, something may happen on the third day or the fourth day. Meanwhile you will be beset with grave anxiety and spend your spare time examining the incoming mails in search of the belated inclosure.

MEANWHILE, also, you may find yourself painfully short of money and forced into borrowing from people who try to look willing but cannot conceal a mental reservation against the possibility of ever getting their money back. Or, if the inclosure is clippings, you will have had your curiosity aroused without hope of its being satisfied.

People who say they are making inclosures should, therefore, put their minds on what they are doing. And, to make assurance doubly sure, they should keep a steaming kettle at their elbow with which to unseal a letter in cases where there is reasonable doubt.

Try and Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

ON THEIR way to a convention, several delegates were bored to distraction by one Johnny-Come-Lately who insisted upon telling pointless anecdotes about his millionaire father, his working "only for a hobby," and so forth.

They felt fully compensated, however, when the conductor came round to collect the tickets. The boaster handed in his ticket without interrupting the flow of his eloquence, but the conductor tapped him on the shoulder and pointed out, "It's not this ticket I'm after, young man. This is the ticket for a gold watch."

What Am I Saying!

Convicts Aid in Fight to Hold Levees

Convicts called to levee duty in the Greenwood (Miss.) area work to shore up dikes along the rampaging Yazoo river, which has flooded 400,000 acres of farm and timberland. National Guardsmen are patrolling levees on the alert for breaks. Greenwood thus far has escaped flood damage.

CHERRY PIE CHAMPION

Valeria Johnson, 17-year-old Chicago high school senior who won the title of the nation's best cherry pie baker, poses with prize-winning entries after the contest in Chicago. The winner, chosen over 11 state champions, said she preferred peach but learned to bake cherry pie because it is her family's favorite. She won a $200 award and will go to Washington to present a pie to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

WOMAN INDUSTRIALIST DEFIES U. S. ON TAX

Vivien Kellems (center), operator of a cable grip plant at Westport, Conn., talking with some of her 38 employes yesterday after paying them without withholding their federal income taxes as required by law. Her action was deliberate, she said, "to make a test case affecting employers and their employes." The workers' social security payments were withheld, however.

INDIAN GETS 'Y' HONOR

Joe Friday, Ojibway Indian from Canada, receiving the National Longhouse award of the Y.M.C.A. Indian Guides movement from Harold S. Keltner, executive secretary of the South Side Y, in a ceremony at Webster Groves Presbyterian Church last night. Keltner is the founder of the father-son movement, which he says Friday, a professional guide whom he first met 25 years ago, inspired.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM the mother of three sons and three daughters all married except two of the sons. One of them became engaged a few months ago. We all approve of the girl and love her. Since they have been engaged I have asked her twice to our home for dinner and she came. Otherwise she never comes to see us, though she has plenty of time on her hands. She does not work. I have come to feel that perhaps she is ashamed of us, much as she seems to love our son. We are from a good family and have never felt this way about any of the other in-laws. This girl is from a wealthy family. Do you think I should just conclude she is snobbish and not try to love her and make her one of us? Or do you think maybe her attitude is our son's fault for not bringing the girl to see us, or telling her she should come alone?

MOTHER.

I think you should not allow yourself to do this girl the injustice of pronouncing her snobbish without first giving her a chance to be friendly. Many girls hesitate to visit a fiance's family unasked, they fear to intrude, do not want to seem to presume. I think it is up to you as the mother of the family, to be cordial to your son's future wife, to make her understand that she will always be welcome. Since she does not work, you can get her to come to your home some afternoon and get better acquainted with her future "sisters" as well as with yourself. Urge your son to bring her home frequently for dinner, and don't make company of her, treat her as informally as you do the rest of the family. You say her family is wealthy. Without being conscious of it this feeling that they have more worldly goods than yourselves, may tend to make you think she is used to more, expects more, will look down on your simpler manner of living. This may not be the case at all. You get along well with and love all your other in-laws. Resolve to love this one too and make her welcome.

IN ANSWER TO "Trust in You": I cannot advise you too strongly to stop the practice of passing on to others medicine prescribed by your doctor for your own use. You do not know how the drug you have been handing out may react on another's system. Though to your mind the results may seem beneficial, not being a physician, how can you determine this? What you are doing could even have disastrous results. Your husband is quite right. Take his advice and stop immediately.

IN ANSWER TO "Star Eyes": Everything your family has to say is exactly what I would also tell you. You will be wise to stick to your own age group. The young girl who starts dating a man much older than herself is inclined to become spoiled and no longer be interested in boys her own age. Before long the man usually drops her for someone closer to his own age and she often has difficulty adjusting happily again to the boys of the proper dating age for her.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO "Mrs. D.": It seems to me the job you have in mind involves a great deal of working out, and the amount it would net you might not be worth the pains. Since what you want is something to do at home to earn money in your spare time, I'll be glad to send you my "Occupations for Women" leaflet if you will mail me a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO "June": If you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I'll mail you my "Names for Boys and Girls."

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will not give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may inclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

Lax Public Opinion

By Elsie Robinson

WHAT was the greatest force for decency in your kid days? I'll tell you. The greatest influence for respectable living in your youth was organized public opinion. And the greatest lack in our present way of life is the loss of such public opinion.

We are intensely proud of our material progress in these last 50 years, but how about our moral progress? Where are the standards which held youth in their grasp at the turn of the century? Where is the nation wide contempt for any drinking woman which made feminine bars an impossibility before prohibition? Where is our universal disgust for loose and reckless behavior. It's nowhere.

"BUT THERE'S a reason," you cry. "Times are different. The machine age has changed everything. Look at the automobiles, the cocktail parties, the unchaperoned weekend parties of 'teen-agers."

Yes, times are different. But who made them different? Who owns those cars which allow minors to make speedy getaways from their delinquent acts? Who permits vicious movies for personal profit? Who looks with tolerance at drunken women and hoodlum youngsters?

YOU AND I have done these things. You and I permit and encourage this laxity. You and I have let our standards slip until public opinion is a farce.

How much respect do you as a mother expect from your daughter if you yourself are an acknowledged barfly? How much deference to the law do you expect from your son, Dad, if he hears you chuckling over the raw deals you've put over?

And it's up to you and me to make that public opinion or face the consequences.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

A LETTER reads as follows: "As one of your devoted readers—of 20 years' standing—I no longer can resist writing you frankly about the curt mood in which you answer those single questions which have taken the place of your longer articles. Your warm-hearted understanding and kindness made your readers delight in everything you used to write. Dear Mrs. Post, what has happened to make you—forgive me, but the effect is—cold and curt?"

I know what you mean and it distresses me very much. Unhappily, space is so limited that my material in some cases must be cut down to a brief question and a word or two in answer, with the inevitable results you described. The situation is particularly distressing because the lack of voice and manner sometimes makes brevity very curt. I wish I could add directions such as "smilingly," "gently," "ruefully," etc., but this is obviously not practical.

DEAR MRS. POST: I lost my father recently and friends and people I know slightly and see on the street offer their condolences. When they say they are sorry, what should I reply?

Answer: Say, "You are very kind, thank you" or "Thank you for your sympathy."

Paper Work Now Burden To Teachers

By Angelo Patri

MORE and more this is becoming a paper world, a place where everything is planned, set forth in sheets of words that are showered down on the workers to their great confusion and dismay.

Why in the world executives should fall into the delusion that something is done when they pass resolutions and order a secretary to file the report and see that everybody gets a copy, is beyond understanding. Of course it is an easy way to get work done. Just sit in a comfortable chair in a quiet room and say, "Miss Brook, take a directive." That's the new word. It has echoes of Russia to my ears, but there it is.

WE HAVE directives now for teachers. No more do heads and superintendents visit a classroom, hold a conference with individual teachers with the view of sharing labors. Instead, the heads get sheaves of directives, the principals compose others, and the whole mass descends upon the teachers.

Instead of a friendly question and a helpful suggestion as to her work, the teacher is more likely to get a note saying, "Please read circular number 372, article 7, line 51." That's so helpful to a teacher who is struggling with a room of active boys and girls at close hand!

It would be a tremendous benefit bestowed on teachers and children if no more such directives were issued for 10 years, or ever, and the superintendents and their staffs went to work in the classrooms, shops and laboratories where their help—their personal, skilled, experienced knowledge — was put at the immediate disposal of the teachers.

"BUT THERE isn't time. We never could reach all the teachers." So? The old-fashioned superintendents did it. They were in my classroom, and they did not have motor cars nor office machines either. They had a teacher's training and a teacher's outlook, and they felt that teaching was their life-work, not issuing directives.

The clerical work that teachers are required to do in many schools today is appalling. It is, for the most part, useless and time - wasting — devouring the strength and spirit of the teachers, and so robbing the children of that much inspiration and leadership. Let the clerks do the clerical work, and let the teachers teach. And never enter a classroom where children and teacher are working unless the interruption is imperative. In short, give the teacher a chance to teach and come out from under the heaps of paper.

Peanut Butter Milk Shake

One-fourth cup peanut butter, two tablespoons sugar, one-fourth teaspoon vanilla extract, dash salt, two cups milk, nutmeg, ice cream (optional).

Mix peanut butter, sugar, vanilla extract and salt in a bowl with one-fourth cup of milk. Mix thoroughly with a fork or spoon. Then whip it up with an egg beater until smooth. Add remainder of milk gradually, beating as you go. Chill. When you serve it, sprinkle a dash of nutmeg on top of each glass. Nice, too, if served with a heaping teaspoon of ice cream.

Be Smart

In a season where brief jackets are following much the same silhouette it's the detailing that will add fashion and distinction. There are cleverly cut pockets to add hip interest to a close-fitting shortie . . . flaring cuffs of many cuts . . . and collars that are a foil to bright scarfs worn knotted about the throat. All very, very successful in gabardine, linen-type spun rayon, linen, and other fabrics that have body.

Oatmeal Cookies

One and one-half cups sifted, all-purpose flour, ¾ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup butter or fortified margarine, melted, 1½ cups brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 6 tablespoons buttermilk or sour milk, 3 cups rolled oats.

Sift flour, baking soda and salt onto a piece of paper. Melt butter or margarine in large saucepan; remove from heat and mix in brown sugar. (If sugar is lumpy, roll before measuring.) Add buttermilk or sour milk and vanilla and mix. Add rolled oats and mix well. Add sifted dry ingredients and work in. Take up a tablespoonful of the mixture with a round-bowled measuring spoon and level it against the side of the mixing bowl; place on greased baking sheet with a small spatula and press flat with wet palm of the hand, rounding edges with fingers. Place cookies at least one inch apart. Bake in a moderate (375 F.) oven about 10 to 12 minutes, until lightly browned. Makes five to six dozen crisp cookies.

Economical Menus for Tomorrow

By Meta Given

WE home economists have done a lot of experimental work on developing new uses for all kinds of foods—fresh, canned, frozen, dried, dehydrated, etc. Some of these have been excellent and doubtless will continue to be favorite ways of preparation for generations to come. But some of those developed long before we were born are still going strong and will continue as long as people eat.

An illustration is uses of cherries. No fruit has more dazzling beauty and this is especially true of the sour red variety, and their vivacious flavor is equally pleasing. But the application of heat causes this gorgeous color to fade to a much less attractive pale red. Fortunately heat affects the cherry flavor little if any.

While gilding the lily in food is rarely ever advisable, here is one instance where it is well to practice a little deception and add some red vegetable coloring to cherries used in cooked desserts. The amount of coloring added should just balance that which the cherries lose in cooking. Another point to keep in mind when using canned cherries is to use all the juice even though it is thin and watery. It is full of flavor and when enough thickening is added to give the juice a thin, sauce-like consistency, the fruit and juice tie together better and make a more appetizing dessert.

The hollows in the pitted cherries are difficult to drain of all their juice so the juice that does drain out must be thickened a little more than seems desirable, but when it is returned to the fruit, it blends with the juice retained in the pits to the right consistency. Here is one of those good old-time cherry desserts that fits the requirements perfectly for a Washington birthday dinner.

Cherry Kuchen

Filling: No. 2 can sour pitted red cherries, two tablespoons cornstarch, three-fourths cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon almond extract, four drops red coloring.

Drain cherries. Turn juice into saucepan. Add cornstarch, mix thoroughly and cook until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Add sugar and salt and cook until mixture bubbles. Cool. Add almond extract and red coloring.

Rich Biscuit Dough: One and one-eighth cups all-purpose flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar, two tablespoons butter or margarine, one egg, one-fourth cup milk.

Sift flour, measure and resift with baking powder, salt and sugar. Add butter. Rub into flour mixture until consistency of corn meal. Beat egg, combine with milk. Mix with flour butter mixture lightly but thoroughly. Turn out on floured board, roll out about one-fourth inch thick and fit into nine-inch pie plate with about one inch overhanging edges. Turn cooled cherry mixture onto dough. Fold edges back over cherry mixture at two-inch intervals to form a fluted pattern. Sprinkle cherries with streusel made by rubbing two tablespoons flour, four tablespoons sugar, two tablespoons butter and one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon with fingertips until small lumps are formed. Bake in hot oven (400F.) 25 minutes. Serve while warm. Eight servings.

Low Cost Menus

SUNDAY

(George Washington's Birthday)

DINNER: Roast rump of beef, mashed potatoes, buttered succotash, cinnamon apple salad with cream-cheese mayonnaise dressing, bread and butter, cherry kuchen.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

THE simple matter of covering or not covering honors deserves greater attention than is given to it by the average player. Observe this unspectacular case:

West, dealer.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 heart	Pass	2 hearts	2 spades
Pass	3 spades	Pass	4 spades
Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the heart king and cashed the ace also, then shifted to the jack of clubs. Declarer won the trick and, after observing that his contract depended entirely on the trump suit, cagily led the spade jack through West.

Before going into West's play, let us consider South's selection of the jack. If the outstanding spades split 2-2, South could lead any card from his own hand, put up dummy's ace, then return a second round. If, however, West had the king-queen-small and East the blank ten, the play of the jack was vital to hold the opponents to one trump trick; and moreover there was another condition that made the jack play highly attractive.

It was this "other condition" that worked out! West covered the spade jack with the king! Dummy's ace thereupon dropped East's blank queen, and the spade ten was the defenders' only remaining jewel.

South's play had been good, but the same cannot be said for West's. He most certainly should not have covered the jack—there was nothing to be gained by so doing. If South had led the jack from queen-jack, West could just as well wait and cover the queen if and when led; but there was the chance that South had tried a fast one—that he lacked the queen—and thus here was a double reason for West not to cover the first honor led through him.

Liver will be more tender if it is cooked at a low, even temperature. Rapid cooking hardens and toughens liver.

'No Need for You to Feel Lonesome'

By Dr. Paul Popenoe

UNLESS you have inherited Robinson Crusoe's job, you are not obliged to feel lonesome and isolated.

Yet this feeling of frustration, of being cut off from everything worth while in life, is a common complaint, at any age, and particularly among the elderly. Mrs. E. expresses it: "I taught school for 38 years. When I retired I left my old home for a milder climate. I have a furnished room with housekeeping privileges, and I don't lack any of the creature comforts, but I feel a terrible lack of any reason for living. The world goes on around me and doesn't know whether I'm alive or dead—it would be all the same in either case."

DON'T BLAME the world entirely, Mrs. E. There are a lot of others in the same fix; and there are a lot of people who would be glad to trade places with you, because they would then have the freedom and opportunity they want, to do some things that need doing.

The best antidote for frustration is to join some constructive organization, where you'll be associated with others who are doing something worth while. "The more we get together, the happier we'll be," says the song; and it's true if the others are the right people. From your letter I judge that you are able to get around, so lose no time in picking out some such organization. Get one that has a bit of crusading spirit, and try to give the world as hard a push as you can in the right direction, before you leave it.

IF YOU CAN'T get around freely, because of physical infirmities, there's the telephone. Mrs. W. is occupying herself with a telephone campaign to get used clothing for European war victims. Mrs. R. has lately been occupied in a telephone campaign to help bring down the price of milk. Mrs. B. has been telephoning to notify women of a special speaker at the next meeting of the League of Women Voters. Mrs. R. is assisting her Sunday school class secretary in telephoning members who have been absent.

If you haven't a telephone, you can do a lot by mail. Miss L. watches the daily papers for instances in which someone has done a good job, and sends a card of encouragement or congratulations. It may contain only three or four words, but she thinks it might help a preacher in Arkansas or a bus driver in North Dakota to know that someone admires a good deed and is willing to tell him so.

Begin today, Mrs. E. You are needed.

My Day -o- By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK.

I HAVE been reading the various newspaper analyses about the American Labor Party's victory over the Democratic candidate for Congress in the special election in the Bronx, and I think what surprises me most is the fact that so many people seem surprised by the results. They apparently were not very well acquainted with conditions in that area.

When the people followed my husband—and even the Communists followed him—they did so because he was the person who was showing genuine interest in their difficulties—and they had plenty of them. Now, these particular people in the Bronx have been subjected to intensive Communist organization and to clever propaganda in which their emotions have been appealed to on many sides.

TWO THINGS worry the American people—inflation and the fear of war. Henry Wallace, who supported and spoke for the American Labor Party candidate, tells them that the third party is for a foreign policy which would prevent war, and he excoriates everything that is done by the Democrats even though they have the same objective. It is just a case of two different methods but, being a hopeful soul, Henry Wallace is not afraid to announce authoritatively that his way will keep us out of war. And since that is what the people want to hear, they believe him.

He sympathizes with them in the matter of inflation, but the third party does not have responsibility to prevent it—nor will Leo Isacson, the newly elected Congressman from the Bronx, be able to do anything about it. Only two members of the American Labor Party in Congress—Mr. Isacson and Rep. Vito Marcantonio—are not going to accomplish anything on their own. They will vote either with the Republicans or the Democrats, and their votes will count for very little.

But above and beyond anything else, the third-party candidate in this special election played up the Palestine question, which he knew would have emotional appeal in that congressional district. It is just a case of fooling people.

I DO NOT AGREE with Edward J. Flynn, head of the Bronx Democratic organization, that the election is a revelation of the strength of the Communists which we did not recognize before. They were there before, they haven't greatly increased, but they could throw their full strength into this particular area because they had fertile ground in which to sow their seed.

It is unfortunate that more people who are eligible to vote did not vote, but again not very surprising. In the last national congressional election, a great many Republican candidates won because the labor groups, which should have been vitally interested, simply stayed away from the polls.

I would say that this election points up a very simple thing—namely, that the Republicans and Democrats alike had better bestir themselves to remove the people's two great anxieties, or the course of our Government in the next few years may be surprising to both parties!
